U. S.-Chinese Reporter Swap Idea Rejected

Peiping Demand Gets Swift Turn-Down by State Department

HONG KONG (AP)—Plans to send American newsmen into Communist China appeared stalemated today by a Peiping demand for reciprocal U.S. admission of Red Chinese reporters. The State Department promptly rejected the Communist demand.

Radio Peiping announced Sunday night that the State Department's decision to allow 24 U.S. reporters to work in Red China for six months "is completely unacceptable to the Chinese people."

The Chinese government "expects Chinese correspondents to be given reciprocal treatment to go to America to report," the broadcast commentary from the official Peiping People's Daily said.

Secretary of State Dulles' announcement in Washington Thursday permitting American newsmen in Communist China for the first time in eight years said the United States "will not accord reciprocal visas to Chinese bearing passports issued by the Chinese Communist regime."

THE PEIPING broadcast said the State Department is trying to "send people into our country to search out opportunities to create trouble. The wrecking activities of the U. S. government will come to nothing and will never be tolerated by the people of China."

Eleven of the 24 Americans were waiting here for answers to visa applications. The Peiping broadcast did not say specifically no visas would be issued until the State Department changed its stand, but that appeared to be its implication.

A full text of the Peiping commentary was read by what veteran radio monitors said was a young American's voice.

Forty-one Red Chinese youths are now in America as guests of the government, and 12 American Korean war turncoats also are still on the mainland.

"Fundamentally, the U. S. government is not considering the principle of equality and reciprocity at all, but wants to collect intelligence in China through its correspondents, carry out subversive activities and embitter feelings between the Chinese and American peoples," the broadcast said. It added:

"Keeping to its consistent policy, the Chinese government will continue to work for contacts and mutual understanding between the Chinese and American peoples."

THE TWO Western nations that now have reporters permanently stationed in Red China, Britain and France, permit correspondents of the New China News Agency to work in London and Paris. Officials in Washington said Dulles agreed to lower his bar to American travel in China because of heavy press and congressional pressure. But he was reported unwilling to pay a price of Chinese reporters in the United States in return for getting Americans into China.

Some U.S. officials said the exchange suggestion may have been made primarily for propaganda purposes and might be dropped.

Army Clamps Lid On Brutality Case

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The Army clamped a secrecy lid on its investigation today into alleged brutal treatment of 10 recruits at nearby Ft. Carson.

Maj. Gen. Harry P. Storke, commanding general, said information as to the nature of the mistreatment and extent of any injuries would be made public when Army investigators completed their work.

The official announcement said the commander of the trainees company and eight enlisted men are under suspicion. It added that sufficient evidence had been gathered to recommend court-martial proceedings.

It Took Some Travel, But Car Is Recovered

DETROIT (AP)—Eddie Dickerson, 41, finally has his stolen car back, but he traveled a bit to get it.

Police called Dickerson and told him they found the car parked on Scotten Avenue near Toledo Street in Detroit. Dickerson said he would pick it up.

A few hours later, police got a call from Dickerson.

House Rules Panel Clears Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee today voted 10-2 to clear the long-blocked civil rights bill for House action.

The committee vote overrode Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) and Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.), last-ditch opponents of the compromise measure, and paved the way for House action.

Speedy House passage is expected for the measure which had been bottled up in the Rules Committee since the Senate passed the bill Aug. 7.

The meeting of the Rules Committee was forced by seven members because Chairman Smith had refused to call a session of the committee.

Under House rules, a majority of a committee can force a meeting when the chairman does not call one.

The committee voted to clear the measure in the compromise form approved by congressional leaders of both parties Friday.

THEN IT WILL be up to the House whether to go along with the committee's decision.

If that happens, as expected, then the Senate is expected to agree to the compromise bill too and send it to the White House. It would become the first civil rights law since reconstruction days.

Smith announced that Rep. Madden (D-Ind.), a supporter of the bill, will handle it on the House floor. Smith said:

"The committee wanted it assigned to somebody who favored it, and that's what I did."

When the bill comes up in the House, debate will be limited to one hour.

Today's meeting of the 12-man Rules Committee was forced when Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) signed a call for a meeting previously signed by six Democrats.

A proposed compromise bill was worked out last week by Democratic and Republican congressional leaders. It would give federal judges limited powers to punish for criminal contempt in voting rights cases tried without a jury.

THE RULES Committee is expected to write the compromise into the bill before sending it to the House for action, probably Tuesday.

Then the Senate will act. Southern senators apparently have no intention of staging a filibuster, but plan to voice again their objections to the legislation.

It was not certain how much time these speeches will require, but the leadership goal is adjournment of Congress by this weekend.

In its final form the bill is expected to contain:

1. Provision for a bipartisan civil rights investigating commission. (Please Turn to Page Two)

Ohio State Fair Attendance Disappointing to Officials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State Fair officials are counting on the five remaining days to bring attendance up to early hopes.

Attendance thus far, they said, has been disappointing. Policy this year prohibits officials from making any estimates of crowds, but paid admissions on opening day and Saturday were reported around 13,000 or 14,000. That's about 20,000 below attendance figures on the corresponding days a year ago.

Sunday, despite fog and drizzle, the fair drew its largest crowd in the three days it has been running.

Newsmen, here for press, Radio and Television Day, estimated the attendance was well above Friday and Saturday crowds.

In the first three days of the fair a year ago, paid admissions numbered 90,991. Fair officials said they doubted the figure would be as high this year.

A report furnished by State Auditor James A. Rhodes showed the Rin Tin Tin-Holmes Rodeo show drew 17,382 persons Friday and Saturday and brought a gross profit of $11,902.25. Another $4,727.25 was grossed by the Ricky Nelson

Prosecutor Asks Walls Case Dropped

Common Pleas Judge Darrell Hottle of Hillsboro is scheduled to be in court here Tuesday, September 3, to hear a motion filed by Fayette County Prosecutor Rollo M. Marchant for the dismissal of the case of the State of Ohio vs. Beverly Clickner Walls, charged with embezzlement of Washington High School activity funds to the amount of $9,874.17 while she was a clerk in the principal's office.

Marchant, in his petition for dismissal, said that John Trace, former Washington High School principal who is a material witness in the case, is now on the island of Guam, outside the continental limits of the United States and will be unavailable for the trial of the case.

The request for dismissal also notes that the state cannot proceed without Trace.

Mrs. Walls originally was to have gone on trial June 3, but the case was continued.

Trace, who accepted a position as director of education on Guam, began a deposition in Common Pleas Court which was never completed. He collapsed after he learned that Mrs. Walls had filed a $100,000 defamation of character suit against him.

Notice that he sought to nullify the indictment was transmitted by the prosecutor to Judge Hottle Aug. 16.

Mother Saves One Son, Sees Another Killed

KENTON (AP)—A mother saved one of her two sons after her auto stalled on a railroad crossing Sunday but saw her other boy die as a locomotive hurled the car 150 feet down the tracks.

Mrs. Charles Whitaker was taking 10-month-old Richard and 2-year-old Charles Jr., to a grocery at nearby East Forker when the car stalled on an Erie Railroad crossing.

She snatched up Richard from the front seat, put him in the road and ran back to get Charles from the rear seat. The train hit the car just as she got back.

Mrs. Whitaker, who is 20, was taken to Hardin Memorial Hospital suffering from shock and cuts from flying debris.

Turtle Benefactor Girding for Battle

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A woman who says she boards turtles for children whose parents object to the pets is protesting a zoning department order that she get rid of her 35 turtles.

"My turtles don't make noise," Mrs. Veronica Vladimiroff said. "They are clean and they don't smell. They aren't dangerous because they don't bite. I never keep snapping turtles. They aren't disease carriers. They don't wander because I keep them in my house or in my yard."

She said she has taken in many which have been found sick or injured, and added: "I can't give up my turtles. I love them and they need me."

19 Persons Killed In Weekend Massings

COLUMBUS (AP)—Nineteen persons died accidentally in Ohio during the weekend, 14 of them in traffic accidents.

Girard Denies His Shooting, Intentional

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—William S. Girard today denied Japanese charges that he lured a woman brass scavenger to her death on a U.S. firing range.

Japanese prosecutors entered a new accusation that the Army specialist from Ottawa, Ill., shot at four other Japanese before an empty cartridge case fired from his grenade launcher killed Mrs. Naka Sakai Jan. 30.

"The facts in the indictment are not correct," the 22-year-old GI told the three black-robed judges as his trial on a manslaughter charge opened in the Japanese District Court here.

In a brief statement Girard told the court Mrs. Sakai's death "was an accident as far as I'm concerned and I'm sorry it happened." The prosecution charged that he threw out empty shell casings to entice the scavengers onto the firing range, then shot at them.

MOVING THAT the indictment be dismissed, the soldier's chief Japanese attorney, Itsuro Hayaishi, renewed the claim that Girard was carrying out his official duty and therefore is not subject to Japanese jurisdiction.

This argument originally had set off considerable congressional and press criticism in the United States of the Army's decision to let Japan try Girard. The U. S. Supreme Court finally upheld the Army action, ruling that a Japanese trial would not violate the

3 Sisters Buried by Hometown

BOSCOBEL, Wis. (AP)—This quiet river town today mourned the deaths of three sisters who died when tons of dirt buried them in a quarry near Dixon, Ill.

John Gurnsey, 33, said he and his wife Ruth, 31, had slept little since Wednesday, the day their daughters Nancy, 10, Ruthie, 9, and Theresa, 8, disappeared from their trailer home near Dixon.

Scores of volunteers hunted the countryside until someone noticed small footprints at the rim of the pit on Quarry Hill, the quarry which Gurnsey's employers, the H. Turner Construction Co. of Boscobel, had contracted to fill.

The Gurnseys were living in the trailer home about half a mile from the quarry while Gurnsey directed the filling operation.

Before dawn Saturday workmen uncovered the three bodies. The dead girls were sitting with their hands in front of their faces as though trying to fend off the tons of dirt that tumbled upon them.

Gurnsey said he agreed with investigators that the girls apparently were buried by earth and stone pushed down on them by his crew. He said he would not return to Dixon to supervise the rest of the filling job.

U. S. Surgeon General Says Reds Not Planting Flu Here

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Leroy E. Burney, U.S. surgeon general, said today Asiatic flu in this country is not the start of germ warfare by the Communists.

"Is there any possibility that the Communists have planted these germs?" Burney was asked in a copyrighted interview in U. S. News & World Report, a weekly news magazine.

"No," he replied. "I don't believe that is a possibility. We have epidemics occasionally and have had them in the past."

"Could the entry of Asiatic flu into the United States have been prevented?" he was asked.

"No," Burney replied. "In the first place, there are many unapparent infections. In other words, you may have the influenza virus, carrying it around here now, and I couldn't detect it in you. That's No. 1."

Senate Panel Ups Foreign Aid Bill Total Half Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee voted today to restore $500,000 of the $809,650,000 which the House slashed from President Eisenhower's foreign aid money bill.

The committee voted 14-7 to recommend to the Senate $3,025,660,000 in new funds. It also approved the reappropriation of $667,050,000 in carryover funds for a total of $3,692,710,000.

By the same vote, the committee rejected a motion by Sen. Ellender (D-La.) to hold new money for military aid to the $114 billion allowed by the House.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson said earlier he would support a boost in aid funds of about $500 million.

Average U. S. Income: $1,940

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income in the United States last year reached a record $324 billion, an average (before taxes) of $1,940 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The figures came out today in a Census Bureau report that showed, among other things:

Delaware's $2,858 was the highest per capita income in the country, 38 per cent above the national average. Mississippi was low with $964, less than half the average. Indiana hit the average almost on the nose with per capita income of $1,946.

The report covered all sources of personal income, including wages and salaries, net income of unincorporated enterprises including farms, net rental income, dividends, interest, social security benefits, direct relief and veterans' benefits.

The 1956 total income of $324 billion was 7 per cent higher than the $303 billion of 1955. The per capita income of $1,940 was 5 per cent higher than the $1,847 of 1955. Separate reports indicate that per capita income this year is running over $2,000 a year.

CONNECTICUT followed Delaware in per capita income with $2,673. Then came New Jersey, $2,443; California, $2,419; Nevada, $2,413; New York, $2,393; Illinois $2,383 and the District of Columbia, $2,371.

Nevada was the only state to show a decline in per capita income—from $2,451 to $2,413. That dropped Nevada from third in 1955, behind Delaware and Connecticut, to fifth in 1956.

The report showed the average income level of the Far West is the highest in the country and about 20 per cent above the national average. The Great Lakes states were about 10 per cent higher than the average.

the Senate for increasing the House total, but little hope that the committee would go along with an effort to lift the amount to the $3.3 billion previously fixed by Congress as a ceiling.

SEN. POTTER (R-Mich.) said, it now looks like the committee will report out something between $3 billion and $3.1 billion.

Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) said he thinks Congress will put itself in "a silly position" if it doesn't restore the fund to about the amount of the ceiling it approved.

"There has been no change in the international situation that I know of that would justify any big reductions," Holland said.

Even if the Senate should approve a $3 billion allotment, this would almost certainly be reduced in a subsequent compromise with the House.

Some Democrats have predicted the final new money figure is likely to be no more than $2.8 billion.

Vice President Nixon conceded Sunday there has been some waste in the foreign aid program. But he said the Eisenhower administration wants to "get rid of the waste."

He said that "as a result of the congressional attitude toward this program, the administration is at this very time examining the operation of these programs all over the world to seek ways in which we can do it with less money than we have been doing it in the past."

However, Nixon defended the overall program, saying that because of it "we see the United States in a free world today in a stronger position than we have ever been since World War II."

Mountain Climber Finally Rescued

LONGMIRE, Wash. (AP)—A 22-year-old Bremerton, Wash., mountain climber who shattered a leg in a 12-foot fall into a crevasse high on Mt. Rainier was rescued in a 17-hour operation Sunday.

George Sainsbury fell into the crevasse Saturday while attempting to scale the south face of 14,408-foot Mt. Rainier with two companions, Arnold Bloomer, 26, and Ray Barker, 29.

Sainsbury's left leg was fractured twice when he tumbled to the jagged ice at the bottom of the crevasse at the 8,000-foot level.

Barker hurried for aid while Bloomer lowered himself into the crevasse and made Sainsbury as comfortable as possible.

5 Prisoners Killed

MANILA (AP)—Police today killed 5 of 15 prisoners who staged an early morning break from the overcrowded prison at Basilan, on Basilan Island off the southwest coast of Mindanao.

Police said the body of Judith Mae Andersen had been chopped and sawed, and was waterlogged. Police said identification was definitely established Sunday night when fingerprint experts made their report. Crime laboratory technicians said a series of 20 prints taken from the girl's personal belongings matched those on a severed hand. The head contained a single, small caliber bullet hole, police reported.

The man containing the head, two hands and an arm was found Saturday in Montrose Harbor. Two days earlier, two men in a boat found the butchered torso in an oil drum near the same North Side lakefront harbor.

The girl's father, Ralph Anderson, 43, disputed police fingerprint identifications and the report of two dental surgeons on charts taken from the office of the family dentist.

"There's still some doubt in my mind," Andersen, a foreman at a bookbinding company, told newsmen. Then he added, in a voice choked with emotion: "But they say fingerprints never lie."

Andersen had viewed segments of the body at the county morgue. Judith Mae was last seen about 11 p.m. Aug. 16 when she left a girl friend's house to return to her home, about a mile away.

WCH Man Freed Half Hour after $350 Robbery

Police are searching for a swarthy, shabbily-dressed man who robbed a gas station here Sunday night and locked the attendant in the trunk of his own auto.

The loss may run as high as $350. Burnie Marshall, 25, of 406 E. Point St., attendant at the Ashland Oil and Refining Co. station, 224 W. Court St., and the victim of the holdup, was a captive in the trunk for half an hour before he was released by a passerby about 10 p. m.

Marshall, a brother of Police Sgt. Walter Marshall, was alone in the station about 9:25 p. m. when the man walked in and asked to use the rest room. Marshall said the man walked back into the rest room, stayed there just a moment, and then came out with a .38 caliber snub-nosed blue steel revolver.

Marshall was putting "more than $200" in bill into a desk drawer as the man came out.

"Leave that where it is," he quoted the man as saying. The bandit took the money, then ordered Marshall outside and made him get into the trunk of his car, parked beside the station.

THE MAN apparently returned to the station after closing the trunk, Marshall said—about $70 more was taken from another desk.

He was last heard running north in the alley between the station and the Kroger Super Market. Marshall said he heard a car start a few minutes later.

A gasoline customer, John Hill of Wilmington, freed Marshall from the trunk after hearing his cries about 10 p. m.

Described to police as about 6 feet tall, weighing about 180 pounds, clad in brown pants and a brown checkered shirt, the bandit was object of a manhunt throughout this area during the night.

MARSHALL went to Hillsboro Monday morning to see a soldier seized there about 5:25 a. m., but said he was not the man. The soldier, identified as John C. Byrnes, 21, of Lancaster, Pa., was being held as absent without leave from Ft. Knox, Ky.

Marshall, who has been employed by Ashland only a month and a half, normally closes the station 10 p. m.

Company-owned, the station is operated by L. F. (Skeet) Everhart, 430 N. North St. Everhart said the total loss "may run as high as $350."

Chicago Cops Seek Clues in Girl's Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—Detective squads combed a West Side neighborhood for clues today in the mutilation slaying of a 15-year-old schoolgirl, whose dismembered body was found floating in Lake Michigan in two separate oil cans.

Police said identification was definitely established Sunday night when fingerprint experts made their report. The request for dismissal also notes that the state cannot proceed without Trace.

Mrs. Walls originally was to have gone on trial June 3, but the case was continued.

Trace, who accepted a position as director of education on Guam, began a deposition in Common Pleas Court which was never completed. He collapsed June 30 in a downtown restaurant after he learned that Mrs. Walls had filed a $100,000 defamation of character suit against him.

Notice that he sought to nolle the indictment was transmitted to the prosecutor to Judge Hottle Aug. 16.

Mother Saves One Son, Sees Another Killed

KENTON (AP)—A mother saved one of her two sons after her auto stalled on a railroad crossing Sunday but saw her other boy die as a locomotive hurled the car 150 feet down the tracks.

Mrs. Charles Whitaker was taking 10-month-old Richard and 2-year-old Charles Jr., to a grocery at nearby East Forker when the car stalled on an Erie Railroad crossing.

She snatched up Richard from the front seat, put him in the road and ran back to get Charles from the rear seat. The train hit the car just as she got back.

Mrs. Whitaker, who is 20, was taken to Hardin Memorial Hospital suffering from shock and cuts from flying debris.

Before dawn Saturday workmen uncovered the three bodies. The dead girls' were sitting with their hands in front of their faces as though trying to fend off the tons of dirt that tumbled upon them.

Gurnsey said he agreed with investigators that the girls apparently were buried by earth and stone pushed down on them by his crew. He said he would not return to Dixon to supervise the rest of the filling job.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Leroy E. Burney, U.S. surgeon general, said today Asiatic flu in this country is not the start of germ warfare by the Communists.

"Is there any possibility that the Communists have planted these germs?" Burney was asked in a copyrighted interview in U. S. News & World Report, a weekly news magazine.

"No," he replied. "I don't believe that is a possibility. We have epidemics occasionally and have had them in the past."

"Could the entry of Asiatic flu into the United States have been prevented?" he was asked.

"No," Burney replied. "In the first place, there are many unapparent infections. In other words, you may have the influenza virus, carrying it around here now, and I couldn't detect it in you. That's No. 1."

"No. 2—There are about 1,800 people who disembark on the West Coast from the Pacific areas every day from planes, ships and otherwise. You can carry the virus and there's no way of detecting who has it and who doesn't have it."

Burney, asked whether he was quite certain the disease was going to come in epidemic proportions in this country, said: "Yes, on the basis of experiences with past epidemics and with its tremendous spread thus far throughout the world."

Burney estimated there are now 20,000 to 25,000 cases in the United States and that between 25 to 34 million persons ultimately may be affected.

"Would you say an individual should be alarmed about the outlook for Asiatic flu?" he was asked.

"No," Burney said. "As long as the virulence of the strain does not change—the disease does not become more severe—I think the individual does not have too much of a problem."

"I think the tremendous impact

Girard Denies His Shooting, Intentional

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—William S. Girard today denied Japanese charges that he lured a woman brass scavenger to her death on a U.S. firing range.

Japanese prosecutors entered a new accusation that the Army specialist from Ottawa, Ill., shot at four other Japanese before an empty cartridge case fired from his grenade launcher killed Mrs. Naka Sakai Jan. 30.

"The facts in the indictment are not correct," the 22-year-old GI told the three black-robed judges as his trial on a manslaughter charge opened in the Japanese District Court here.

In a brief statement Girard told the court Mrs. Sakai's death "was an accident as far as I'm concerned and I'm sorry it happened."

The prosecution charged that he threw out empty shell casings to entice the scavengers onto the firing range, then shot at them.

Senate Panel Ups Foreign Aid Bill Total Half Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee voted today to restore $500,000,000 of the $809,650,000 which the House slashed from President Eisenhower's foreign aid money bill.

The committee voted 14-7 to recommend to the Senate $3,025,660,000 in new funds. It also approved the reappropriation of $667,050,000 in carryover funds for a total of $3,692,710,000.

By the same vote, the committee rejected a motion by Sen. E. Lender (D-La.) to hold new funds for military aid to the $134 billion allowed by the House.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson said earlier he would support a boost in aid funds of about $500 million.

There was bipartisan support in the Senate for increasing the House total, but little hope that the committee would go along with an effort to lift the amount to the $3.3 billion previously fixed by Congress as a ceiling.

SEN. POTTER (R-Mich.) said, it now looks like the committee will report out something between $3 billion and $3.1 billion.

Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) said he thinks Congress will put itself in "a silly position" if it doesn't restore the fund to about the amount of the ceiling it approved.

"There has been no change in the international situation that I know of that would justify any big reductions," Holland said.

Even if the Senate should approve a $3 billion allotment, this would almost certainly be reduced in a subsequent compromise with the House.

Some Democrats have predicted the final new money figure is likely to be no more than $2.8 billion.

Vice President Nixon conceded Sunday there has been some waste in the foreign aid program. But he said the Eisenhower administration wants to "get rid of the waste."

He said that "as a result of the congressional attitude toward this program, the administration is at this very time examining the operation of these programs all over the world to seek ways in which we can do it with less money than we have been doing it in the past."

However, Nixon defended the over-all program, saying that because of it "we see the United States in a free world today in a stronger position than we have ever been since World War II."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income in the United States last year reached a record $324 billion, an average (before taxes) of $1,940 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The figures came out today in a Census Bureau report that showed, among other things:

Delaware's $2,858 was the highest per capita income in the country, 38 per cent above the national average. Mississippi was low with $964, less than half the average. Indiana hit the average almost on the nose with per capita income of $1,946.

The report covered all sources of personal income, including wages and salaries, net income of unincorporated enterprises including farms, net rental income, dividends, interest, social security benefits, direct relief and veterans' benefits.

The 1956 total income of $324 billion was 7 per cent higher than the $303 billion of 1955. The per capita income of $1,940 was 5 per cent higher than the $1,847 of 1955. Separate reports indicate that per capita income this year is running over $2,000 a year.

CONNECTICUT followed Delaware in per capita income with $2,673. Then came New Jersey, $2,443; California, $2,419; Nevada, $2,413; New York, $2,393; Illinois $2,383 and the District of Columbia, $2,371.

Nevada was the only state to show a decline in per capita income—down from $2,451 to $2,413. That dropped Nevada from third in 1955, behind Delaware and Connecticut, to fifth in 1956.

The report showed the average income level of the Far West is the highest in the country and about 20 per cent above the national average. The Great Lakes states were about 10 per cent higher than the average.

"I think the tremendous impact upon our community life, and economy, by having a 15 to 20 per cent attack rate, is the important part."

Burney said the supply of vaccine is now relatively limited but that it is hoped enough vaccine for 60 million Americans will be available by Feb. 1.

President Eisenhower will receive a shot of Asiatic flu vaccine today. The White House said he has come in contact with at least two persons believed to have been struck by the disease.

Inoculation was advised by Dr. Burney who said persons with a history of heart or lung ailments are more likely than others to suffer side effects from the disease.

Eisenhower had a heart attack in September 1955.

The supposed sufferers from Asiatic flu who have been in contact with the President are Dr. Gabriel Hauge, an economic adviser, and Thomas Craven Jr., a newsreel photographer.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Police today killed 5 of 15 prisoners who staged an early morning break from the overcrowded prison at Basilan, on Basilan Island off the southwest coast of Mindanao.

Police said the body of Judith Mae Andersen had been chopped and saved, and was waterlogged. Police said identification was definitely established Sunday night when fingerprint experts made their report. Crime laboratory technicians said a series of 20 prints taken from the girl's personal belongings matched those on a severed hand. The head contained a single, small caliber bullet hole, police reported.

The can containing the head, two hands and an arm was found Saturday in Montrose Harbor. Two days earlier, two men in a boat found the butchered torso in an oil drum near the same North Side lakefront harbor.

The girl's father, Ralph Andersen, 43, disputed police fingerprint identifications and the report of two dental surgeons on charts taken from the office of the family dentist.

"There's still some doubt in my mind," Andersen, a foreman at a bookbinding company, told newsmen. Then he added, in a voice choked with emotion: "But they say fingerprints never lie."

Andersen had viewed segments of the body at the county morgue. Judith Mae was last seen about 11 p.m. Aug. 16 when she left a girl friend's house to return to her home, about a mile away.

CHICAGO (AP)—Detective squads combed a West Side neighborhood for clues today in the mutilation slaying of a 15-year-old schoolgirl, whose dismembered body was found floating in Lake Michigan in two separate oil cans.

The case of a Washington C. H. man charged with drunken driving was continued by Municipal Court Judge Max G. Dice Monday after the defendant's attorney said he will request a jury trial.

Judge Dice fined one man for driving with fictitious plates, one for running a stop sign and three for speeding during the busy Monday session. Ten people forfeited bond for non-appearance on traffic charges, chiefly speeding.

Two men were fined for intoxication.

Presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi said he would not rule on the jurisdiction issue until all the evidence in the case is heard and "the final decision is given." This is expected to be in late October or November. Hayashi said this was agreeable to him.

In accordance with the Japanese custom of extended recesses between sessions, the trial was adjourned after today's hearing until Sept. 6. It will move then to the Somagahara firing range, where the fatal shooting occurred.

Three relatives of the dead woman attended the opening session—her 18-year-old daughter Kayoko Sakai and two of Mrs. Sakai's brothers-in-law, Mohei Sakai and Tokotaro Sekizuchi.

Kayoko said her father was at a religious retreat in western Japan and would not attend the trial. She added that she thought the court "is leaning over backward to be partial to the United States and Girard."

Girard's Japanese wife Haru (Candy) was not in the courtroom. Hayashi said he told her to stay away because many Japanese felt the marriage last month was in bad taste.

THE SOLDIER was brought to the court in an Army motorcade from Camp Drew, 30 miles away, and was turned over to Japanese jurisdiction for the first time. He was returned to the Army's authority at the end of the day's sessions and was whisked back to camp.

Judge Kawachi warned Girard that his answers to questions would become part of the evidence in the case and advised him that "you can maintain complete silence from beginning to end."

After hearing the indictment read in Japanese and in English, Girard told the court he had nothing to say. But after a hasty conference with Hayashi he returned to the half-circle witness stand and declared: "The facts in the

Deaths, Funerals

MRS. FAITHE C. PEARCE—Funeral services for Mrs. Faithe C. Pearce, former society editor of The Record-Herald, were held at 2 p. m. Saturday in First Presbyterian Church with Rev. W. Neil Hand in charge. Mrs. Pearce, whose home was at 407 Broadway here, died Tuesday in St. Louis following a heart attack suffered at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. S. Mann.

Burial was in Washington Cemetery, with Tom and Jerry Collins and Robert, William, Paul, Wayne and Donald Manuel acting as pallbearers.

Bullet Wound Fatal To Mrs. Evans, 60

Mrs. Candice E. Evans, 60, wife of Herbert Evans, died of a self-inflicted bullet wound Sunday morning in her home on Waterloo Rd., four miles east of Washington C. H.

According to Sheriff Orland Hays, Mrs. Evans' husband had gone to one of the farm buildings, and when he returned 15 minutes later he found his wife's body in a bedroom. She had shot herself in the mouth with a .22 caliber pistol, apparently about 10 a. m.

Evans, who said he did not hear the shot, said his wife had been in ill health for about four months. Dr. Hugh W. Payton, Fayette County coroner, gave a verdict of suicide.

Mrs. Evans, a practical nurse, was a native of Fayette County and had spent her entire life here. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church at Bloomington and Marshall Grange at Jeffersonville.

Besides her husband she leaves two brothers, Edward Lynch, Washington C. H., and Walter Lynch of near Melvin.

Services will be at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Gerstner Funeral Home, with the Rev. Paul Elliott, pastor of the Bloomington Presbyterian Church, in charge. Burial will be in Bloomington Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. Monday.

At that time, Gov. C. William O'Neill will climb aboard a bulldozer and dig the blade into the earth in the northwestern corner of Wayne County.

Ohio GOP Planning 'Caravan' Campaign

COLUMBUS—Ohio Republican policy makers agreed today on a "caravan" style campaign for the 1958 election without saying whether they would seek re-election.

Final decision on a campaign strategy will be determined at a meeting of the GOP State Committee here Sept. 6.

The plan for all elected officials to campaign in a "caravan," instead of separately, is intended to strengthen the party's bid to retain top posts in the state. A GOP aide explained that officials felt they would get more "mileage" out of the campaign for votes as a team.

Runaway Truck Injures Farmer

Ralph Reed, 48, of Creek Rd., was hospitalized after he fractured his right leg when he tried to catch a runaway pickup truck on his farm Saturday afternoon.

Reed was looking for a hog on his farm when he noticed the truck was starting to roll. He ran to catch it and was pinned between the side of the cab and a tree.

He was released from Memorial Hospital Monday.

Also treated at the hospital over the weekend was Sharon Jean Yahn, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Yahn of Cross Rd., who received treatment in the emergency room Saturday for a cut lip she sustained when she fell from her bicycle.

Georgia Jail Idea Partly a Success

MACON, Ga.—A man who said he dislikes Florida jails was willing to give the Georgia variety a try, but was only partially successful.

Police said Jesse Carvers, 24, of Fitzgerald, kicked in a Macon store window Saturday night. Carvers told police he hoped that the stunt would get him arrested and figured that if he was jailed in Georgia, he wouldn't be sent back to finish a life sentence in Florida. He will be lodged in jail at Macon, but only until Florida authorities come after him.

U. S. Consul Gets No Note From Ohio GI

HONG KONG—An American Consulate spokesman here said today a check of all files shows no correspondence nor information from American turncoat Scott Leonard Rush, 25, of Marietta, Ohio.

Rush's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rush, said Saturday night in Marietta that their son had written them that he has asked the American Consulate in Hong Kong for permission to come here.

Rush said his son had written that the Red Chinese have released him to return home but have refused so far to allow his Chinese wife to accompany him.

"He's had his belly full," said Howard Rush, a construction engineer in Marietta.

Scott Rush chose Red China rather than returning to the United States after his capture in Korea. Since then, his father said, he has been attending a school and working in a textile mill in Yanyang.

Rush quoted from his son's letter: "I'm willing to return providing I can get my wife out of Red China into Hong Kong."

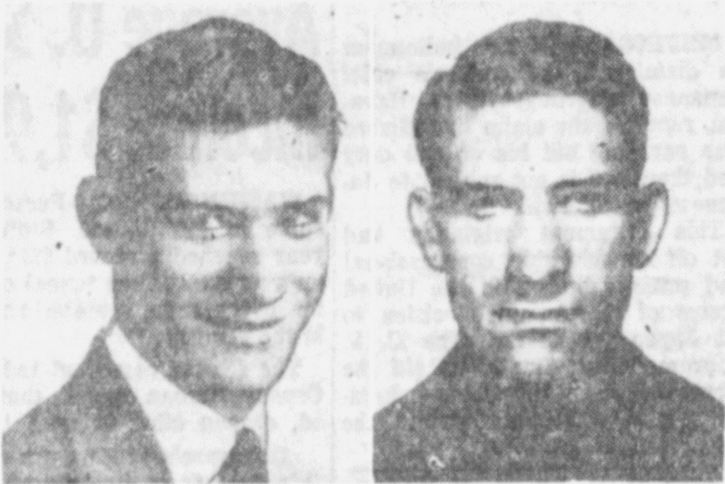

He said his son had not received permission from the Red Chinese for his wife, whom he married last December, to leave with him.

3. A special provision—the heart of the final compromise—that a judge shall decide whether a person charged with criminal contempt for violating an injunction shall be tried by himself, or by a jury.

If the judge tries the case himself and levies a penalty of more than 5 days in jail and a $300 fine, the defendant would have the right to a new trial before a jury. The maximum penalty for such injunction violations would be six months in jail and $1,000 fine.

UNDER THE compromise, civil contempt cases would be tried without a jury. Criminal contempt proceedings are those designed to punish violations of court orders. Civil contempt cases are aimed at getting compliance.

The compromise also is expected to include a section making clear that a ban, backed by criminal penalties, on releasing testimony received by the investigating commission in closed-door session does not apply to newsmen.

Vice President Nixon said it is important to get a civil rights bill passed because of the impact on peoples in Africa, Asia and the Middle East. He said there are a billion of these people who he contended would have a decisive part in the struggle for world freedom.

Syrian Chief Holds Parley with Cabinet

DAMASCUS, Syria—President Shukri Kuwailat met his cabinet today for the first time since agreeing to the appointment of a new leftist army command.

Newspaper reports indicated the cabinet was preparing to take up "administrative changes"—a purge of so-called imperialists.

Kuwailat flew to Egypt eight days ago when the appointment of leftist Maj. Gen. Afif Bizri as army chief of staff was announced. He returned Sunday. The flight brought official Syrian denials that he had resigned.

Wisconsin Set For Vote on Senate Seat

MILWAUKEE—A friend of President Eisenhower's, former Republican Gov. Walter Kohler, and liberal Democrat William Proxmire will meet in a special election Tuesday for the remaining term of the U. S. Senate term of the late Joseph McCarthy.

Their extensive campaigns have failed to produce heated interest in the election which observers believe will be decided by less than 500,000 of the state's 2.4 million eligible voters.

The victor will serve the remaining 16 months in the term of McCarthy, who died in Washington May 2 of a liver ailment. His controversial record has not entered into campaigning by major candidates.

Three independent candidates have entered the race. They are Mrs. Georgia Cozzini, a Milwaukee housewife; Douglas J. Wheaton, a 32-year-old steamfitter from Kaukauna; and Howard Boyle, a Milwaukee attorney.

Calling himself a "Joe McCarthy Republican," Boyle has asserted, "The election of either Mr. Kohler or Mr. Proxmire would be a repudiation of Joseph McCarthy."

Kohler, three-time former governor, has staked his campaign to solid support for the Eisenhower administration.

Running with the endorsement of labor, Proxmire has blamed the Eisenhower administration for increases in the cost of living and is critical of its farm and foreign policies.

Ohio's Capitol Building in Columbus is regarded as a perfect example of Doric architecture.

The case of a Washington C. H. man charged with drunken driving was continued by Municipal Court Judge Max G. Dice Monday after the defendant's attorney said he will request a jury trial.

Released under $350 bond was Basil Hatfield, 50, of 732 Broadway, arrested by police at 2:15 a. m. Saturday at the corner of Broadway and Grove Ave.

Judge Dice fined one man for driving with fictitious plates, one for running a stop sign and three for speeding during the busy Monday session. Ten people forfeited bond for non-appearance on traffic charges, chiefly speeding.

A fine $50 and costs for driving an auto with license plate issued to another car was James Prater, 35, of Bedford, who pleaded guilty. Floyd Hall, 22, of Coshocton, was fined $5 and costs after pleading guilty to running a stop sign.

PLEADING GUILTY to speeding were George Oglesbee, 56, of Dayton, Marvin Curtin, 61, of Washington, C. H., and Larry Johnson, 23, of 103 E. Ohio Ave., all of whom drew $5 fines.

Forfeiting bond for failure to appear were:

Two men were fined for intoxication.

SOLDIER'S constitutional rights. Presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi said he would not rule on the jurisdiction issue until all the evidence in the case is heard and "the final decision is given." This is expected to be in late October or November. Hayashi said this was agreeable to him.

In accordance with the Japanese custom of extended recesses between sessions, the trial was adjourned after today's hearing until Sept. 6. It will move then to the Somagahara firing range, where the fatal shooting occurred.

Three relatives of the dead woman attended the opening session—her 18-year-old daughter Kayoko Sakai and two of Mrs. Sakai's brothers-in-law, Mohei Sakai and Tokotaro Sekiguchi.

Kayoko said her father was at a religious retreat in western Japan and would not attend the trial. She added that she thought the court "is leaning over backward to be partial to the United States and Girard."

Girard's Japanese wife Haru (Candy) was not in the courtroom. Hayashi said he told her to stay away because many Japanese felt the marriage last month was in bad taste.

THE SOLDIER was brought to the court in an Army motorcade from Camp Drew, 30 miles away, and was turned over to Japanese jurisdiction for the first time. He was returned to the Army's authority at the end of the day's sessions and was whisked back to camp.

Judge Kawachi warned Girard that his answers to questions would become part of the evidence in the case and advised him that "you can maintain complete silence from beginning to end."

After hearing the indictment read in Japanese and in English, Girard told the court he had nothing to say. But after a hasty conference with Hayashi he returned to the half-circle witness stand and declared: "The facts in the

Deaths, Funerals

MRS. FAITHE C. PEARCE—Funeral services for Mrs. Faithe C. Pearce, former society editor of The Record-Herald, were held at 2 p. m. Saturday in First Presbyterian Church with Rev. W. Neil Hand in charge. Mrs. Pearce, whose home was at 407 Broadway here, died Tuesday in St. Louis following a heart attack suffered at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. S. Mann.

Burial was in Washington Cemetery, with Tom and Jerry Collins and Robert, William, Paul, Wayne and Donald Manuel acting as pallbearers.

Bullet Wound Fatal To Mrs. Evans, 60

Mrs. Candice E. Evans, 60, wife of Herbert Evans, died of a self-inflicted bullet wound Sunday morning in her home on Waterloo Rd., four miles east of Washington C. H.

According to Sheriff Orland Hays, Mrs. Evans' husband had gone to one of the farm buildings, and when he returned 15 minutes later he found his wife's body in a bedroom. She had shot herself in the mouth with a .22 caliber pistol, apparently about 10 a. m.

Evans, who said he did not hear the shot, said his wife had been in ill health for about four months. Dr. Hugh W. Payton, Fayette County coroner, gave a verdict of suicide.

Mrs. Evans, a practical nurse, was a native of Fayette County and had spent her entire life here. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church at Bloomingburg and Marshall Grange at Jeffersonville.

Besides her husband she leaves two brothers, Edward L. n. c. h., Washington C. H., and Walter Lynch of near Melvin.

Services will be at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Gerstner Funeral Home, with the Rev. Paul Elliott, pastor of the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church, in charge. Burial will be in Bloomingburg Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. Monday.

At that time, Gov. C. William O'Neill will climb aboard a bulldozer and dig the blade into the earth in the northwestern corner of Wayne County.

Ohio GOP Planning 'Caravan' Campaign

COLUMBUS—Ohio Republican policy makers agreed today on a "caravan" style campaign for the 1958 election without saying whether they would seek re-election.

Final decision on campaign strategy will be determined at a meeting of the GOP State Committee here Sept. 6.

The plan for all elected officials to campaign in a "caravan," instead of separately, is intended to strengthen the party's bid to retain top posts in the state. A GOP aide explained that officials felt they would get more "mileage" out of the campaign for votes as a team.

Georgia Jail Idea Partly a Success

MACON, Ga.—A man who said he dislikes Florida jails was willing to give the Georgia variety a try, but was only partially successful.

Police said Jesse Carvers, 24, of Fitzgerald, kicked in a Macon store window Saturday night. Carvers told police he hoped that the stunt would get him arrested and figured that if he was jailed in Georgia, he wouldn't be sent back to finish a life sentence in Florida. He will be lodged in jail at Macon, but only until Florida authorities come after him.

U. S. Consul Gets No Note From Ohio GI

HONG KONG—An American Consulate spokesman here said today a check of all files shows no correspondence nor information from American turncoat Scott Leonard Rush, 25, of Marietta, Ohio.

Rush's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rush, said Saturday night in Marietta that their son had written them that he has asked the American Consulate in Hong Kong for permission to come here.

Rush said his son had written that the Red Chinese have released him to return home but have refused so far to allow his Chinese wife to accompany him.

"He's had his belly full," said Howard Rush, a construction engineer in Marietta.

Scott Rush chose Red China rather than returning to the United States after his capture in Korea. Since then, his father said, he has been attending a school and working in a textile mill in Yanyang.

Rush quoted from his son's letter: "I'm willing to return providing I can get my wife out of Red China into Hong Kong."

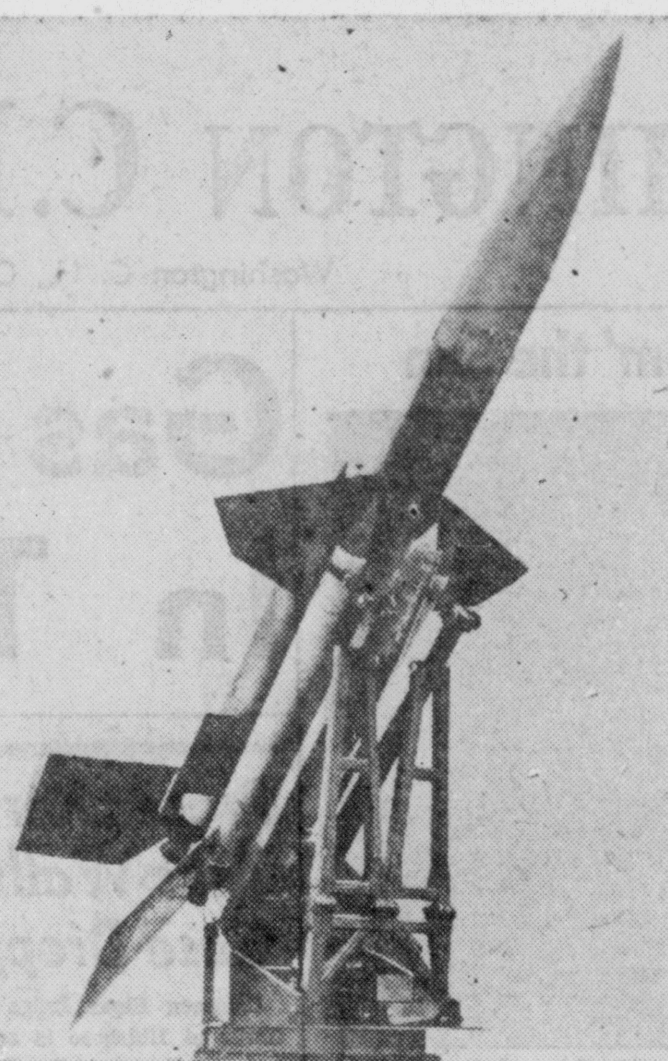

He said his son had not received permission from the Red Chinese for his wife, whom he married last December, to leave with him.

Syrian Chief Holds Parley with Cabinet

DAMASCUS, Syria—President Shukri Kuwattly met his cabinet today for the first time since agreeing to the appointment of a new leftist army command.

Newspaper reports indicated the cabinet was preparing to take up "administrative changes"—a purge of so-called imperialists.

Kuwattly flew to Egypt eight days ago when the appointment of leftist Maj. Gen. Afif Bizri as army chief of staff was announced. He returned Sunday. The flight brought official Syrian denials that he had resigned.

Shirley Temple Booked on TV

Star To Be Seen Both As Child and as Adult

NEW YORK (AP)—Shirley Temple is back and television's got her. All three of her.

In a planning outburst that is hardly rare coincidence, Shirley Temple will be on home screen display as a moppet miracle, a round-faced adolescent and a living lady from now until spring.

Four of the films made 20 years ago by the singing-dancing-emoting wunderkind have been framed as a series of "Holiday Specials" which 134 stations launch come Sunday, Oct. 20.

Scarcely will the tubes have cooled from the round of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," "Captain January," "Wee Willie Winkle" and "Heidi" before today's Miss Temple—more properly Mrs. Charles Alden Black, a 29-year-old California matron, will be seen as the interlocutor of set of fairy tale "live" spectacles on the NBC-TV network.

Between these major forays, Miss Temple will be on view elsewhere around the dial in that phase of her movie career which followed tyke triumphs and preceded matrimony. The ABC-TV network, for example, will be unrolling her "The Bachelor and the Bobby-Soxer" on Sunday, Sept. 1.

As a preview of the Temple television era, some brief clips of the "Holiday Specials" set are being exhibited to press and trade.

It can fairly be reported that the Shirley of 9 and 10 is still quite a tot, as she prances with Bill "Bojangles" Robinson, trebles through tunes and makes the most of plots tailored to her pint-sized dimensions.

Congresswoman Finds Job To Be 'Very Challenging'

By ANNETTE DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Florence P. Dwyer (R-N.J.) finds serving in the Congress of the United States a "very challenging experience," particularly after seven years in the New Jersey state legislature.

"While I learned a great deal during those seven years," she told me, "I don't think that all of what's good for New Jersey can be projected to the 48 states. Now I have to think in terms of what is good for my country."

Mrs. Dwyer, wife of an industrial relations engineer of Elizabeth, is the only new Republican woman elected to the 85th Congress and the second woman to be sent to Capitol Hill from New Jersey. Former Congresswoman Mary Norton, a Democrat, was the first.

Always interested in legislation, Mrs. Dwyer first developed a yen to get into politics when she served as parliamentary secretary to the majority leader and speaker of her state assembly.

"After learning the techniques I threw my hat into the ring for the state legislature," she said. "You have to have a desire to be of service if you want to do a good job in politics. You must like legislation, desire to see it come alive in terms of what it will do for the people."

This she finds most exciting in the Congress.

"It's like Pandora's box," she said, "something new every day. A tunnel bill today, a Niagara project tomorrow, pay increases for postal employees. People here feel much more strongly about issues on a national level."

Rep. Dwyer is at her desk in the House Office Building at 9 a. m. daily, though many mornings she's on hand at 6:30. On many days she has two committee meetings in the morning before the 11:45 buzzer calls members to the House chamber. Mrs. Dwyer is a member of the House Veterans Affairs committee and ranking minority member of the Inter-governmental Relations subcommittee. Among bills she introduced this session was one for establishment of a foreign service academy, a

New Intestinal Virus Hits U. S., Ohio Specialist Says

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Albert Sabin, noted Cincinnati virologist, says a new type of intestinal virus has joined Asiatic flu as a threat to health in the United States.

Dr. Sabin said Friday night that Milwaukee has had an estimated 10,000 cases of the new virus, which researchers call "echo type 9."

He said that no deaths have been reported in Milwaukee, but the infection made patients of all ages miserable and put them in bed for up to several days.

The symptoms of echo type 9 are fever, aching muscles, sore throat and vomiting.

Dr. Sabin said there is no vaccine for the new virus. He said that patients should be isolated from normal contacts and that those who care for them should observe strict hygienic precautions such as washing hands.

He said the disease sometimes masquerades as measles—because of a rash—and occasionally as nonparalytic polio because of a mild meningitis or inflammation of the membrane covering the spinal cord.

Dr. Sabin said a major problem with the infection is that it usually requires a few days to affect a patient, during which he shows no symptoms but can give the disease to others. This infectious stage is usually over in a week, but can last as long as 14 days.

He said that it is normally a warm weather disease, and swept through Europe last summer, persisting until late fall. He noted that Asiatic flu is not expected to become a serious problem until cold weather starts.

Milwaukee's health commissioner, Dr. E. R. Krumbiegel said,

"the important thing to consider is that the disease is not dangerous. And of the 10,000—case figure, that is, of course, an estimate. We can't say whether the 10,000 people ever developed Echo-9 virus infections after displaying earlier symptoms."

Dr. Krumbiegel said, "the common symptoms of a headache, the feeling of a cold, usually precede the infection. The patient often has a slight fever."

Dr. Krumbiegel described the rash as small red-colored dots that look like measles but are fewer in number. On babies and little children, they resemble insect bites.

The health commissioner said there is a chance the disease could spread throughout the country.

Mother Accused In Beating Case

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A mother is to be charged formally today with the beating of her 14-year-old daughter whose skull was fractured, an assistant Hillsborough County prosecutor said.

Herbert Goldberg said a warrant charging Mrs. Doris Jean Worthington, 38, with assault and battery would be filed. He said Mrs. Worthington is accused of beating Hope Brown, vacationing here from Columbus, Ohio.

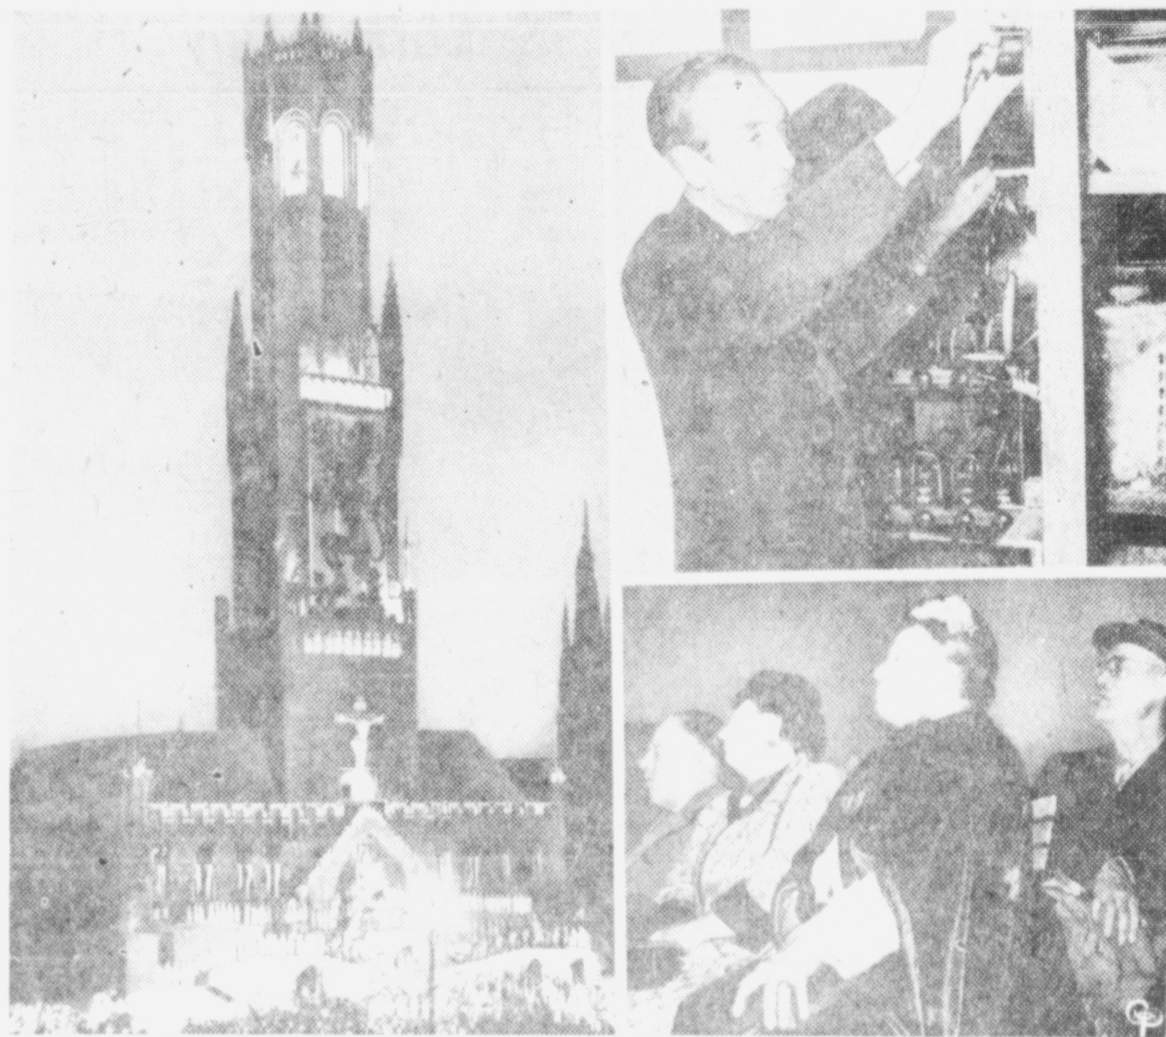

Mrs. Worthington, a former circus trapeze performer, denies she struck the girl.

Goldberg said the girl contends the mother struck her after an argument about going out with boys. The girl said she was struck three times on the head.

For those who seek the quaint flavor of the Old World, a visitor to the Stotzer Cheese Factory and Farm near Mineral City, Ohio, will enjoy the melodious ringing of Swiss cow bells as their dairy herd ambles in from the pasture at evening.

Too Many Luxuries In Military Budgets

Hearing comments in general conversation touching on the apparently continuous growth of federal government expenses, the average person is quite likely to agree with one U. S. Senator who, not long ago, declared, "The military (of this country) do have great virtues but thrift is not one." He was referring to parts of the national military budget being considered.

A little later in his speech before the U. S. Senate this same speaker added that those in control of the armed forces "have a built-in bias against economizing."

With the rising threat of serious inflation across our land, there has been brought to public attention and to the attention of the federal powers - that - be, again and again, the lack of economy by those in control of policies relating to our armed forces in peace time.

The criticism has not been against the laboratory and the scientific approach to seeking improved weapons, but rather against the easy going luxury which seems to be taken as a matter of course particularly by many of the officers and their families.

The remarks by the senator here referred to were made in support of a $2.5 billion cut in the defense budget that had been recommended in the House and was up for consideration in the Senate. This senator certainly did not approve this cut because he wants to weaken our defense—he is as strong an advocate of a top quality military establishment as anyone in or out of the government. However he had carefully examined the proposed defense budget in detail, and had found a number of expensive items that have nothing to do with military security.

He cited examples, among them swimming pools, buffet tables, and extensive remodeling of a golf course at one of the bases.

People would naturally assume that other senators after all their talk about economy would agree with the one who spoke his criticism; that they would have gone along with the House in the $2.5 billion slash it had recommended in the military budget.

But that just isn't the way most senatorial minds work. The Senate voted to restore almost all the $2.5 billion slash. Plainly that will buy a lot of swimming pools, buffet tables and putting greens for the nation's warriors.

That shows what the taxpayers of this century are up against, not only in the military but in hundreds of spending departments of government.

Wanted: A Museum In the Sky

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Tallman is a young flier with a soaring ambition—he wants to create a museum in the sky.

If you have an abandoned elderly airplane in your backyard (and pray who doesn't?), call Tallman. He wants it. Thousands today collect antique autos. Tallman is a pioneer in a newer field—the preservation of antique airplanes.

He is a leader in the small but growing number of enthusiasts who seek to salvage for posterity the remaining winged remnants of the early air age. But the airplanes he finds and rebuilds aren't destined, he hopes, for a duty museum. He wants to put them back in the sky — at America's air shows — where they belong.

"I don't think it's quite enough to see the color and beauty of the past, unless it's out in the sunshine working," he explained.

Flying long has been the main interest of Tallman, a slender 30-year-old man with a straw-colored mustache that makes him look like a British sergeant major. His father, a World War I naval pilot, let him take over the controls of a plane at 5.

Since then Frank has logged more than 6,000 hours in more than 75 types of aircraft, ranging from 1910 Bleriot to flying boats, gliders, bombers and jets. He was a Navy flier in the last war, has served as a test pilot, and is one of a comparative handful of U. S. airmen licensed to fly every type of plane.

But today his heart is with the wood-and-cloth relics of the days when the air was an opening ocean to man.

"I was in the tailend of the helmet and goggles era of the open biplane," he said. "And I believe the fun in flying was then—when you could see it, feel it and smell it.

"The pleasure went out when they started putting on an oxygen mask, a hard hat, and an anti-gravity space suit—all worn in a pressurized cabin. When they look away the feel of the wind in your face, they took away most of the fun."

A year ago Frank made a hard choice—between a dream and a job. He quit a post as account executive for a broadcasting network and set out to assemble his flying museum.

He buttered his bread, meanwhile, by stunting flying for Hollywood, and by going to England to assemble a portfolio of portraits of vintage World War I war birds.

So far Tallman has collected only nine obsolete planes (the 1910 Bleriot is his earliest, a Grumman Wildcat his latest), but at that his collection is one of the world's largest.

'To the Good and Charitable'

Bernard Baruch, who has reached the age of 87, has written a book about himself which has been amply reviewed, particularly by those who are excited over the fact that he was a millionaire by 35 and that he had a formula for purchasing securities and speculating in them which one might use to advantage.

This part of Baruch's biography interested me least. Quite a few men speculated in the stock market and some won and some lost. Also, I know many millionaires, and some of them I would not invite to my home to meet my family. The mere possession of money does not at all represent ability or is at all representative of character. After all, surely Al Capone was a millionaire and so is Lucky Luciano.

Baruch's worth is not that he made a fortune but that he is a constructive citizen; that he is generous in his benefactions to charities; that he has helped a number of younger persons get started; that he is loyal to his country and faithful to his God and the traditions of his ancestors.

I do not even get excited over the fact that presidents have sought his advice. Presidents should seek the advice of wise and experienced men, but some of the advisors who the current and prior presidents chose were neither wise nor experienced.

What is notable about Baruch, as it is about Herbert Hoover, is that when he has been asked to serve, he has never refused to give time and effort, no matter what his age or the momentary state of his health. There has been no old man's complaint about aching bones and tired muscles.

Those who thank God for being alive have no time to complain. They know what to expect and are grateful that it is so long delayed. Baruch, who is a Jew, is a profoundly religious man. His mother came of an old Sephardic family that had settled first in New York and then in South Carolina in the colonial days, arriving in the United States before 1700.

His father Simon, was born in Posen, Germany, now Poznan, Poland. Simon Baruch came to the United States in 1855. He studied medicine at the South Carolina Medical College and at the Medical College of Virginia. He became a surgeon, serving in the war between the states on the Confederate side.

Baruch has been unusually devoted to the memory of his father and has spent much of his accumulation to perpetuate his father's name, particularly in the field of physiotherapy in which Dr. Simon Baruch was a pioneer. To me, it is most interesting that this man who has known all the great men of his generation who has been the friend of such men as Woodrow Wilson, J. P. Morgan, Herbert Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, finds greatest happiness in the memory of his father. That is old tradition, sacred among the people from which Baruch came.

Transporting Dry Ice Can Prove Hazardous

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

TIME and time again I've warned motorists of the possible dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning when driving with the windows tightly closed, especially in winter weather.

Now, it seems, a similar warning is in order for motoring in hot weather.

Cooling Agent
Some drivers apparently seek to "air-condition" their autos by using dry ice as a cooling agent. To obtain the full effect of the cooling power of the dry ice, they keep the car windows closed securely.

Now this presents a potential hazard of which the driver probably is unaware—carbon dioxide intoxication.

In a recent issue of "Missouri Medicine," Dr. A. L. Walter of Sedalia, Missouri, warns of this danger. And since I think it is of importance to all drivers who might be thinking of various ways to keep cool, I'd like to pass it on to you.

May Cause Death
According to National Safety Council, carbon dioxide in 10 per cent concentration may produce unconsciousness. In larger quantities it may cause death by suffocation.

It's believed that many auto accidents have occurred because of side effects of carbon dioxide intoxication.

Dr. Walter cites a case in which a man and his mother were over-while driving a car with the windows closed. In the rear seat you are taking.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negroes and the supporters of civil rights have won a clear-cut victory. Southern whites have suffered a definite defeat.

This is clear after an analysis of the compromise civil rights bill which is expected to be passed by Congress this week.

It's been called a bill to protect Negroes' voting rights. It goes far beyond that. It would have gone further, by letting the attorney general step into all kinds of civil rights cases.

But Southern senators were able to get that part of the bill knocked out. As it stands, the bill would let the attorney general step into voting rights cases only.

That's plenty. So is the rest of the bill. And for the first time in this century, the Southerners were unable to block civil rights legislation.

That may mean more chance for more civil rights legislation in the future.

The bill calls for a commission to investigate all kinds of civil rights violations. The commission would have no powers to act against such violations, as the attorney general could have done under the knocked-out part of the bill. But it could expose.

For example, the commission could investigate the Ku Klux Klan and the White Citizens Councils set up in the South to resist public school integration and integration in general.

The more the commission may reveal—particularly about harassment of Negroes—the more could be the pressure for more legislation. And the commission would have power to hold hearings anywhere in the South.

Because it could issue subpoenas, it could force witnesses to appear and testify.

Under the bill, the attorney general could ask a federal judge for a court order to stop a voting rights violation. Again, there would be exposure. For once a judge issues such an order, he would hold a public hearing to bring out the facts in the case.

And the bill leaves untouched the judge's traditional power to try and jail—without a jury—anyone in civil contempt of courts for disobeying his order.

Action against a person for civil contempt is intended to make him comply while there is still time for him to do so. Criminal contempt action is taken when it is too late to comply and is aimed at punishment for flouting an order.

But a court order can cover a broad field. For example: If a judge ordered a registrar of voters not to interfere with would-be Negro voters, the judge would probably make the order binding on all others too.

Thus, a whole community could be ordered not to interfere. If the registrar complies, but others don't, they could be tried by the judge without a jury for civil contempt.

If it was too late for compliance and the judge wanted to try them for criminal contempt, he could do so, provided he did not impose a sentence of more than 45 days in jail and a fine of $300.

If he wanted them to face a penalty greater than that, he would have to let them have a jury trial. If convicted by a jury, the maximum penalty for criminal contempt under the bill would be a $1,000 fine and six months in jail.

Too Many Luxuries In Military Budgets

Hearing comments in general conversation touching on the apparently continuous growth of federal government expenses, the average person is quite likely to agree with one U. S. Senator who, not long ago, declared, "The military (of this country) do have great virtues but thrift is not one." He was referring to parts of the national military budget being considered.

A little later in his speech before the U. S. Senate this same speaker added that those in control of the armed forces "have a built-in bias against economizing."

With the rising threat of serious inflation across our land, there has been brought to public attention and to the attention of the federal powers - that - be, again and again, the lack of economy by those in control of policies relating to our armed forces in peace time.

The criticism has not been against the laboratory and the scientific approach to seeking improved weapons, but rather against the easy-going luxury which seems to be taken as a matter of course particularly by many of the officers and their families.

The remarks by the senator here referred to were made in support of a $2.5 billion cut in the defense budget that had been recommended in the House and was up for consideration in the Senate. This senator certainly did not approve this cut because he wants to weaken our defense—he is as strong an advocate of a top quality military establishment as anyone in or out of the government. However he had carefully examined the proposed defense budget in detail, and had found a number of expensive items that have nothing to do with military security.

He cited examples, among them swimming pools, buffet tables, and extensive remodeling of a golf course at one of the bases.

People would naturally assume that other senators after all their talk about economy would agree with the one who spoke his criticism; that they would have gone along with the House in the $2.5 billion slash it had recommended in the military budget.

But that just isn't the way most senatorial minds work. The Senate voted to restore almost all the $2.5 billion slash. Plainly that will buy a lot of swimming pools, buffet tables and putting greens for the nation's warriors.

That shows what the taxpayers of this century are up against, not only in the military but in hundreds of spending departments of government.

Wanted: A Museum In the Sky

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Tallman is a young flier with a soaring ambition—he wants to create a museum in the sky.

If you have an abandoned elderly airplane in your backyard (and pray who doesn't?), call Tallman. He wants it. Thousands today collect antique autos. Tallman is a pioneer in a newer field—the preservation of antique airplanes.

He is a leader in the small but growing number of enthusiasts who seek to salvage for posterity the remaining winged remnants of the early air age. But the airplanes he finds and rebuilds aren't destined, he hopes, for a duty museum. He wants to put them back in the sky — at America's air shows — where they belong.

"I don't think it's quite enough to see the color and beauty of the past, unless it's out in the sunshine working," he explained.

Flying long has been the main interest of Tallman, a slender 30-year-old man with a straw-colored mustache that makes him look like a British sergeant major. His father, a World War I naval pilot, let him take over the controls of a plane at 5.

Since then Frank has logged more than 6,000 hours in more than 75 types of aircraft, ranging from 1910 Bleriot to flying boats, gliders, bombers and jets. He was a Navy flier in the last war, has served as a test pilot, and is one of a comparative handful of U. S. airmen licensed to fly every type of plane.

But today his heart is with the wood-wire-and-cloth relics of the days when the air was an opening ocean to man.

"I was in the tailend of the helmet and goggles era of the open biplane," he said. "And I believe the fun in flying was then—when you could see it, feel it and smell it.

"The pleasure went out when they started putting on an oxygen mask, a hard hat, and an anti-gravity space suit—all worn in a pressurized cabin. When they look away the feel of the wind in your face, they took away most of the fun."

A year ago Frank made a hard choice—between a dream and a job. He quit a post as account executive for a broadcasting network and set out to assemble his flying museum.

He buttered his bread, meanwhile, by stunt flying for Hollywood, and by going to England to assemble a portfolio of portraits of vintage World War I war birds.

So far Tallman has collected only nine obsolete planes (the 1910 Bleriot is his earliest, a Grumman Wildcat his latest), but at that his collection is one of the world's largest.

'To the Good and Charitable'

By George Sokolsky

Bernard Baruch, who has reached the age of 87, has written a book about himself which has been amply reviewed, particularly by those who are excited over the fact that he was a millionaire by 35 and that he had a formula for purchasing securities and speculating in them which one might use to advantage.

This part of Baruch's biography interested me least. Quite a few men speculated in the stock market and some won and some lost. Also, I know many millionaires, and some of them I would not invite to my home to meet my family. The mere possession of money does not always represent ability or is at all representative of character. After all, surely Al Capone was a millionaire and so is Lucky Luciano.

Baruch's worth is not that he made a fortune but that he is a constructive citizen; that he is generous in his benefactions to charities; that he has helped a number of younger persons get started; that he is loyal to his country and faithful to his God and the traditions of his ancestors.

I do not even get excited over the fact that presidents have sought his advice. Presidents should seek the advice of wise and experienced men, but some of the advisors whom the current and prior presidents chose were neither wise nor experienced.

What is notable about Baruch, as it is about Herbert Hoover, is that when he has been asked to serve, he has never refused to give time and effort, no matter what his age or the momentary state of his health. There has been no old man's complaint about aching bones and tired muscles.

Round about Fayette County

By P. E. KELLEY

Horse stealing was formerly carried on extensively in this community, and in most instances the thieves were able to escape prosecution because there was no organized effort to halt their activities, and peace officers lacked the present modern facilities for dealing with this type of thief.

It was not uncommon for a score or more of horses to be stolen in Fayette County in a single year.

Some 45 years ago quite a number of the leading farmers got together and formed the Fayette County Anti-Horse Thief Assn.

James M. Hartman, school teacher-farmer, of the Waterloo Rd. was chosen executive secretary, and Martin L. McCoy, prominent farmer, was named president.

The association voted to pay a liberal reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any horse thief.

This organization "brought fear into the hearts of those who had been stealing horses and those who might do so, so very few horses were stolen after the organization was formed, particularly when a thief who had stolen a horse here and sold it in the hill regions to the south had been arrested and sent to the penitentiary.

Not only did the association, which soon had a sizeable membership offer rewards for arrest of horse thieves, but for thieves who stole anything from members of the organization.

GAS FROM MEXICO!

Think of it! Some of these days we will be using natural gas from south of the Rio Grande River, in Mexico!

For the first time in history Mexican natural gas was piped into the United States Aug. 22, the event being marked by special ceremonies on the banks of the Rio Grande near Reynosa, Mexico.

The gas will flow across the border at the rate of 115,000,000 cubic feet daily through pipe lines constructed by Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., owners and operators of the "Big Inch," "Little Inc." and a third big pipeline passing through Fayette County enroute to the Eastern seaboard.

Part of the gas is diverted into mains feeding this city, owned by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and The Dayton Power and Light Co.

The new transmission line constructed to receive the gas is 30 inches in diameter, and the gas comes from Brazil, Trevino, and Lomitas fields, in the eastern Mexico. The line cost Texas Eastern $44,000,000.

The added gas supply from Texas will make it possible for Texas Eastern to deliver 1,643,000,000 cubic feet daily through its 5,900 mile of gas mains through the southern middle and eastern states.

Under terms of the contract the amount of Mexican gas delivered daily may be increased to 200 million cubic feet daily, when it is available.

ARROWS DEADLY

Early settlers in this part of the country more than 150 years ago, knew the arrows from the Indians were accurate and deadly, and many pioneers were slain or wounded by arrows striking suddenly from an unseen foe.

The Indians were trained from childhood to use both bow and spear with deadly accuracy, but the bow and arrow were the most feared, as well as the most used by these stone age people.

Presence of arrows buried in bones of skeletons unearthed at the Engle Gravel Pit near here, and other places in Ohio, clearly indicate how these buried met their death.

Recently while in the Powhatan Indian Village which is part of the Jamestown, Va., Festival, I witnessed some wonderful bow and arrow skill on the part of one of the Indians, a youth of some 22 years.

Shooting left handed, he placed eight arrows in a circular target some four feet in diameter, from a distance of 150 feet.

Four of the arrows were so near the center they would have killed a man had he been standing there. "I am not as good as I used to be, for I did not have a bow in my hands for four years until just a few months ago," the Indian smilingly informed me when I complimented him on his excellent marksmanship.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Russia was folding up in the eastern theater of the First World War and the Italians had smashed the Austrian Lines. British and French were still deadlocked with Germans on the Western front as America prepared to throw tremendous equipment and forces into the war.

Wells B. Sollars, well known resident, died at 72.

Max G. Dice and Russell Moberl were stationed at Ft. Logan, Ark. in the U. S. Army.

Chillicothe Rd. was reopened after being closed for many weeks while paving was underway at the southern limits of the city.

Dr. H. L. Stitt installed the first oil heating unit used in Fayette County, in his home on Route 70, just north of Washington C. H.

Sears and Nichols were operating their new canning plant on Sycamore St.

Wilbur Wilson, member of Company M in training at Camp Perry, died, being the first Fayette County casualty in the First World War.

Charles A. Reid was named chairman and C. P. Ballard secretary of the commission elected to frame a charter for this city.

The Horse Journal, which had been published here several years by Capt. Charles Allen, suspended publication because the owner was in the U. S. Army.

Another rabid dog was killed in the city, and a quarantine was established to prevent spread of rabies.

Forty-three additional men were enrolled in the military service here.

The B&O RR announced plans for daily passenger train service on the CH&D which it had acquired a short time before.

The price of wheat was fixed at $2.20 per bushel.

Teaching Profession Said—Misunderstood

"We have associated the acquisition of knowledge with teaching," the professor said, "while the really important task of teaching isn't imparting knowledge but helping boys and girls and men and women to become all they are able to become."

'Pirates' Add Fuel to Oyster War Waged between Maryland, Virginia

By DEAN HELLER

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—The powerful, souped-up motors of the outlaw ship purred quietly, almost noiselessly, as her crew silently went about their illegal work. Taking advantage of night and a blanket of fog, the modern-day buccaneers were making a big haul.

Suddenly, out of the darkness, the brilliant glare of a searchlight knifed through the soupy fog. "You're under arrest!" a stern voice from a public address system told the crew of the outlaw ship. "Stand by for boarding. Don't attempt to escape or we'll open fire!"

The outlaw vessel's answer was to open up her souped-up engines full speed ahead in a mad dash to escape to the distant Virginia shore.

The police vessel, a ship of the Maryland "navy," not fast enough to intercept the marauder, opened fire with rifles and shotguns. Machine guns are seldom used any more in the Maryland-Virginia "oyster war."

A dozen bullets pinged into the disappearing ship's hull. Whether anyone was injured or killed, the Maryland authorities never learned. If there were, it would be nothing new, for there have been shooting casualties aplenty—both sides—in this bitter oyster war.

OYSTER PIRATING is blamed by Maryland conservation authorities as the main cause in the disastrous decline in a once-huge industry in the Old Line State. Although many of the nation's oysters come from the tidewater Chesapeake bay area, present day fishermen are harvesting less than three million bushels of oysters a year.

At the industry's high point in the 1880s, more than 15 million bushels were harvested each year.

Maryland law sets up stringent controls on harvesting oysters in an effort to preserve the dwindling supply and to allow the toothsome bivalves to reproduce themselves. Oystermen may dredge only in a sailboat. If they use a powerboat, they have to "tong" - probe with heavy tongs to pick up the oysters from the bottom.

the oystermen's view is that "scratching along with them heavy tongs," he can earn maybe $50-$60 a week. "Moonlighting"—dredging with a powerboat—he can often get $200-$300 worth of oysters in an evening.

THAT'S HOW a whole colony of "Virginia raiders," daring watermen who don't mind dodging gunfire, who drive speedy little powerboats called "handscrapers" that can outrun Maryland's patrol boats, got into the oyster business. The oyster war has developed violently hostile attitudes in Maryland and Virginia towns on the opposite sides of the oyster county.

If a Virginia "pirate" gets away, he needn't worry that Virginia officials might turn him over to Maryland officials, even if they have a warrant for his arrest. Public opinion simply wouldn't permit it.

Amusement Device Fall Kills Boy, 10

CINCINNATI (AP)—A fall from a moving amusement device at nearby Coney Island has proved fatal to a 10-year-old Withamsville, Ohio, boy.

Russell Gilber Mack Jr. died at Christ Hospital Sunday night of head and other injuries suffered a few hours earlier.

The boy had been on an outing with his parents and friends when he "jumped or fell" from the device, according to E. L. Schott, president of the amusement park.

The device comprises several cabs suspended from a central pole around which the cabs whirl parallel to the ground.

Schott said officials checked the rogated" the 172-year-old agreement, because of "abuses" by Virginia oyster pirates. The Virginians have been yelling "foul!" ever since, saying that the agreement could not be ended without their consent. The case may ultimately wind up in the United States Supreme Court.

In the meantime everyone agrees, something has to be done about the oyster situation. Even through a female oyster spawns up to a million eggs in a season, man is harvesting them faster than nature can replace 'em.

She Plans 'Doin's' On 102nd Birthday

McMECHEN, W. Va. (AP)—Mrs. Julia Castilow has only streaks of gray in her brown hair. Her health is good except for rheumatism in her knees.

Next Saturday, she plans to celebrate her birthday with "a little doin's." She'll be 102.

Born near Paden City here in West Virginia's northern panhandle, Mrs. Castilow boasts that her life has had few dull moments.

Mrs. Castilow recalls milking a cow on the family farm as an 11-year-old when Jesse James, en route to Ohio from a West Virginia crime, crawled through the weeds and tried to grab her milk pail. A farm hand frightened him away.

Round about Fayette County

By P. E. KELLEY

Horse stealing was formerly carried on extensively in this community, and in most instances the thieves were able to escape prosecution because there was no organized effort to halt their activities, and peace officers lacked the present modern facilities for dealing with this type of thief.

It was not uncommon for a score or more of horses to be stolen in Fayette County in a single year.

Some 45 years ago quite a number of the leading farmers got together and formed the Fayette County Anti-Horse Thief Assn.

James M. Hartman, school-teacher-farmer, of the Waterloo Rd. was chosen executive secretary, and Martin L. McCoy, prominent farmer, was named president.

The association voted to pay a liberal reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any horse thief.

This organization "knew fear into the hearts of those who had been stealing horses and those who might do so, so very few horses were stolen after the organization was formed, particularly when a thief who had stolen a horse here and sold it in the hill regions to the south had been arrested and sent to the penitentiary.

Not only did the association, which soon had a sizeable membership offer rewards for arrest of horse thieves, but for thieves who stole anything from members of the organization.

GAS FROM MEXICO!

Think of it! Some of these days we will be using natural gas from south of the Rio Grande River, in Mexico!

For the first time in history Mexican natural gas was piped into the United States Aug. 22, the event being marked by special ceremonies on the banks of the Rio Grande near Reynosa, Mexico.

The gas will flow across the border at the rate of 115,000,000 cubic feet daily through pipe lines constructed by Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., owners and operators of the "Big Inch," "Little Inc." and a third big pipeline passing through Fayette County enroute to the Eastern seaboard.

Part of the gas is diverted into mains feeding this city, owned by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and The Dayton Power and Light Co. The new transmission line constructed to receive the gas is 30 inches in diameter, and the gas comes from Brazil, Trevino, and Lomitas fields, in northern Mexico. The line cost Texas Eastern $44,000,000.

The added gas supply from Texas will make it possible for Texas Eastern to deliver 1,643,000,000 cubic feet daily through its 5,900 mile of gas mains through the southern middle and eastern states.

Under terms of the contract the amount of Mexican gas delivered daily may be increased to 200 million cubic feet daily, when it is available.

ARROWS DEADLY

Early settlers in this part of the country more than 150 years ago, knew the arrows from the Indians were accurate and deadly, and many pioneers were slain or wounded by arrows striking suddenly from an unseen foe.

The Indians were trained from childhood to use both bow and spear with deadly accuracy, but the bow and arrow were the most feared, as well as the most used by these stone age people.

Presence of arrows buried in bones of skeletons unearthed at the Engle Gravel Pit near here, and other places in Ohio, clearly indicate how these buried met their death.

Recently while in the Powhatan Indian Village which is part of the Jamestown, Va., Festival, I witnessed some wonderful bow and arrow skill on the part of one of the Indians, a youth of some 22 years.

Shooting left handed, he placed eight arrows in a circular target some four feet in diameter, from a distance of 150 feet.

Four of the arrows were so near the center they would have killed a man had he been standing there. "I am not as good as I used to be, for I did not have a bow in my hands for four years until just a few months ago," the Indian smilingly informed me when I complimented him on his excellent marksmanship.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Russia was folding up in the eastern theater of the First World War and the Italians had smashed the Austrian Lines. British and French were still deadlocked with Germans on the Western front as America prepared to throw tremendous equipment and forces into the war.

Wells B. Sollars, well known resident, died at 72.

Max G. Dice and Russell Moberg were stationed at Ft. Logan, Ark. in the U. S. Army.

Chillicothe Rd. was reopened after being closed for many weeks while paving was underway at the southern limits of the city.

Dr. H. L. Stitt installed the first oil heating unit used in Fayette County, in his home on Route 70, just north of Washington C. H.

Sears and Nichols were operating their new canning plant on Sycamore St.

Wilbur Wilson, member of Company M in training at Camp Perry, died, being the first Fayette County casualty in the First World War.

Charles A. Reid was named chairman and C. P. Ballard secretary of the commission elected to frame a charter for this city.

The Horse Journal, which had been published here several years by Capt. Charles Allen, suspended publication because the owner was in the U. S. Army.

Another rabid dog was killed in the city, and a quarantine was established to prevent spread of rabies.

Forty-three additional men were enrolled in the military service here.

The B&O RR announced plans for daily passenger train service on the CH&D which it had acquired a short time before.

The price of wheat was fixed at $2.20 per bushel.

Teaching Profession Said Misunderstood

BOWLING GREEN (AP)—Dr. Ernest O. Melby, professor of education at Michigan State University, told a Bowling Green summer commencement audience here that although teaching is the largest of the professions in his country, "it is perhaps the most misunderstood."

2 Men Die, Boy Hurt In Ohio Plane Crash

COLUMBUS (AP)—Two men were killed and a 9-year-old boy injured Sunday when their airplane nose-dived into a farm pasture about four miles southwest of near Reynoldsburg.

State highway patrolmen identified the dead as James W. Davis, 48, of Kittanning, Pa., the pilot, and Donald Carney, 32, of Vandergift, Pa. Carney's son, Donald Jr., 9, suffered a fractured right leg and left arm.

'Pirates' Add Fuel to Oyster War Waged between Maryland, Virginia

By DEAN HELLER

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—The powerful, souped-up motors of the outlaw ship purred quietly, almost noiselessly, as her crew silently went about their illegal work. Taking advantage of night and a blanket of fog, the modern-day buccaneers were making a big haul.

Suddenly, out of the darkness, the brilliant glare of a searchlight knifed through the soupy fog. "You're under arrest!" a stern voice from a public address system told the crew of the outlaw ship. "Stand by for boarding. Don't attempt to escape or we'll open fire!"

The outlaw vessel's answer was to open up her souped-up engines full speed ahead in a mad dash to escape to the distant Virginia shore.

The police vessel, a ship of the Maryland "navy," not fast enough to intercept the marauder, opened fire with rifles and shotguns. Machine guns are seldom used any more in the Maryland-Virginia "oyster war."

A dozen bullets pinged into the disappearing ship's hull. Whether anyone was injured or killed, the Maryland authorities never learned. If there were, it would be nothing new, for there have been shooting casualties aplenty—both sides—in this bitter oyster war.

OYSTER PIRATING is blamed by Maryland conservation authorities as the main cause in the disastrous decline in a once-huge industry in the Old Line State. Although many of the nation's oysters come from the tidewater Chesapeake bay area, present day fishermen are harvesting less than three million bushels of oysters a year.

At the industry's high point in the 1880s, more than 15 million bushels were harvested each year.

Maryland law sets up stringent controls on harvesting oysters in an effort to preserve the dwindling supply and to allow the toothsome bivalves to reproduce themselves. Oystermen may dredge only in a sailboat. If they use a powerboat, they have to "tong" - probe with heavy tongs to pick up the oysters from the bottom.

Miss Mary Louise Wright Is Bride of Mr. Longberry

Miss Mary Louise Wright became the bride of Mr. Harold E. Longberry Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church with the Rev. Mr. Sanford Lindsey of London, former pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Donis Patterson.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemums and the altar flanked by seven-branch candelabra backed by ferns and other greenery. A half-hour of music preceded the ceremony with Mr. Clarence Barger as organist and the Boys' Choir of Trinity Church of London.

Mrs. Phyllis Callender, sister of the bride was matron of honor and Mr. Longberry's best man was his brother Clyde Longberry. Ushers were Mr. Robert Lisk and Mr. Donald Bandy. Judge Robert Brubaker gave the bride in marriage. The former Miss Wright has resided with the Brubakers for a number of years.

The bride's gown was of pink organdy, ballerina length, edged with heavy white embroidery, a tiered skirt of ruffles over hoops. Her bluish pink finger-tip veil was held in place by a pink tiara edged with pink satin and she wore pink satin French opera pumps. Her colonial bouquet was of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Callender's gown was of pink organdy, princess style, over pink taffeta with a bouffant skirt. With it she wore pink shoes. Her colonial bouquet was of pink and lavender asters with French blue ribbons.

A reception in the Parish House followed the ceremony. Guests were served from a table centered with a tall bouquet of pink garden roses, lavender buddleia and baby's breath, silver candelabra on each side. The wedding cake was tiered, pink and white.

When the bride and groom left for their wedding trip to Canada, the new Mrs. Longberry was wearing a navy blue silk sheath gown, a shoulder cape lined with navy and white polka-dots. Her accessories were navy and she wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses from her bridal bouquet. On their return they will reside in the apartment of Mrs. Judith Robinson on Leesburg Road.

The bride is a graduate of Washington High School and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Longberry, is a graduate of Monroe High School at Five Points. He served four years in the Air Force in the United States and Korea and is now a civilian employee of Clinton Air Force Base in Wilmington.

Daugherty and family of Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. James Willis and son, Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. David Hallor and Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Williams, all of Mt. Sterling, Miss Patricia Wright of Washington, D. Marilyn's Voice Gets Analysis STILLWATER, Okla., (P)—Oklahoma State University speech professor Dr. Paul Heinberg, who does research in phonetics, agrees Marilyn Monroe's voice is "sexy".

"But," adds the prof, "it's not because she is low-pitched. It's because she is breathy".

His research shows Miss Monroe's vocal cords part and come together in a rather regular cycle, producing a simple tone of low intensity.

Miss Monroe, Heinberg said, uses more lung power to speak in her "breathy" voice than do ordinary persons, because a greater amount of air is needed to hold the vocal folds open.

He further defined her voice: "It's a pure tone plus a voice of hiss".

DEAR MARY HAWORTH:

What do you do when there is nothing left to live for—no tomorrow, no nothing? Ask God to help you? Pray? I have done both, am still doing them, but still I am suffering.

Two weeks ago the man whom I dearly loved took his life. He was an alcoholic, a weakling and, in his own words, "no good." He tried, I know, to overcome these faults. He loved me; he begged me to marry him; but I put him off until he could straighten himself out.

Now I wonder if it wouldn't have been better if I had married him? Perhaps then I could have done more for him.

Three days before his death, he gave me clues as to what he was going to do—clues which I didn't take seriously at the time. Now I know he had it all planned.

He left a note saying he would always love me—but giving no reason for his act. I am torturing myself for not realizing he was serious, and for not trying to stop him.

I miss him so, and think of him every waking moment. My family and friends say I should be glad he is out of my life; and that if we had married, he would have made my life miserable. They say

Thompsons Leave

Club Date Changed

Bloomingburg Wednesday Club has been postponed until Friday this week. They will meet with Mrs. Dale Wilson at 2 p. m.

he was too weak to face life; but all this is of little consolation to me now.

K. R.

DEAR K.R.: You ask why would the man have taken his life if he really loved you. Well, suicide is always a manifestation of soul sickness, isn't it? Or perhaps one might say: ego sickness.

Suicide marks the point at which a person, in a certain state of mind, feels at the ultimate end of his own resources, or his own convincing, in trying to find peace, joy, happiness, satisfaction, etc., on his terms, in his experience of living.

And because this person, thus dismayed, somehow assumes, with no real proof, that he is, or ought to be, captain of the show that he calls his life—and because he completely overlooks taking God into account—he just quits, in despair. Or in rage.

Suicide is a step taken, in a moment of hell-like inner isolation from humanity, during a mood of loneliness, defiance, resentment and hate, equating blind despair.

As to the relationship between your friend's despair and his love of you—it is possible that his sense of frustration, due to your wish that he get straightened out before proceeding to marriage, was a sort of last straw added to his cumulative grudge against life.

If so, your proper desire for some proof in action that he was morally qualified for marriage, was still a spiritually sound attitude. And it would be like blaming elements of health in yourself for his ill health, as if your sanity on that point made him irrational, to feel "responsible" for his self-destruction—supposing romantic destruction contributed to it.

Now about yourself: Valid sorrow for the tragic ending of a friend's life is one thing; but there is morbidity in your mournful preoccupation. You are a more or less soulless person too, quite aside from this heartbreak affliction. Thus your problem is how to get yourself on another wave-length, psychologically—as (1) to attract happy associates, and (2) better withstand the inevitable shocks of life. You need psychiatric support and religious fellowship to help you make that transfer.

Paul Ford Is Slow Starter As Actor, but He's Gaining

HOLLYWOOD (P)—Paul Ford is a slow starter, but once he gets going—watch out.

After all, wasn't he 39 before he even turned to acting on a permanent basis? And wasn't he 39 before he made a dent on the national consciousness? In a word—yes.

You may not recall his name, but most TV viewers recognize the jutting face and pot-belly of Sgt. Bilko's exasperated colonel on the Phil Silvers show. That's Paul Ford.

"Oddly enough, I'm not a bit like the colonel in real life," explained Ford. "I'm rather quiet and soft-spoken, as a matter of fact."

So he is. He seems almost a bit taken aback by his sudden fame after many long years of effort.

"I guess I always wanted to be an actor," he remarked as he looked back on his life. "But I never really thought I could make a go of it. So I tried everything else."

His jobs varied from working in a gas station to reading proofs for the Philadelphia Bulletin. He herded a crew of magazine salesmen through the East and Middle West—"We were sort of con men, but honest."

"Finally I turned to acting, because I couldn't seem to make a living at anything else," he said.

His first job was in a puppet show operated by the WPA. Then he got involved in a little theater in New York. His wife argued that $3 a night was hardly enough to support their five kids, but Paul persisted.

His luck began to turn when

he got into radio acting. Using the salesmanship he had learned on the road, he sold himself to producers and soon was doing 15 shows a week.

"I always could make a good living from acting—$12,000 to $15,000 a year," he said.

The change began when he was chosen to play the harrassed colonial in the Broadway company of "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Woodville, Ohio lies in the midst of an extensive limestone area. The lime produced here is noted for its rare whiteness, plasticity and sand—carrying qualities.

Miss Mary Louise Wright Is Bride of Mr. Longberry

Miss Mary Louise Wright became the bride of Mr. Harold E. Longberry Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church with the Rev. Mr. Sanford Lindsey of London, former pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Donis Patterson.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemums and the altar flanked with seven-branch candelabra backed by ferns and other greenery. A half-hour of music preceded the ceremony with Mr. Clarence Barger as organist and the Boys' Choir of Trinity Church of London.

Mrs. Phyllis Callender, sister of the bride was matron of honor, and Mr. Longberry's best man was his brother Clyde Longberry. Ushers were Mr. Robert Lisk and Mr. Donald Bandy. Judge Robert Brubaker gave the bride in marriage. The former Miss Wright has resided with the Brubakers for a number of years.

The bride's gown was of pink organdy, ballerina length, edged with heavy white embroidery, a tiered skirt of ruffles over hoops. Her blush pink finger-tip veil was held in place by a pink tiara edged with pink satin and she wore pink satin French opera pumps. Her colonial bouquet was of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Callender's gown was of pink organdy, princess style, over pink taffeta with a bouffant skirt. With it she wore pink shoes. Her colonial bouquet was of pink and lavender asters with French blue ribbons.

A reception in the Parish House followed the ceremony. Guests were served from a table centered with a tall bouquet of pink garden roses, lavender buds and baby's breath, silver candelabra on each side. The wedding cake was tiered, pink and white.

sage of pink sweetheart roses from her bridal bouquet. On their return they will reside in the apartment of Mrs. Judith Robinson on Leesburg Road.

The bride is a graduate of Washington High School and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Longberry, is a graduate of Monroe High School at Five Points. He served four years in the Air Force in the United States and Korea and is now a civilian employee of Clinton Air Force Base in Wilmington.

On Friday evening the Rev. Mr. Lindsey was host to a rehearsal dinner for members of the wedding party at The Washington Hotel coffee shop. Out of town guests attending the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. William B. Daugherty and family of Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. James Willis and son, Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Lavid Hallor and Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Williams, all of Mt. Sterling, Miss Patricia Wright of Washington, D. C. and Miss Gaylene Wright of Peru, Indiana.

Marilyn's Voice Gets Analysis

STILLWATER, Okla., (AP)—Oklahoma State University speech professor Dr. Paul Heinberg, who does research in phonetics, agrees Marilyn Monroe's voice is "sexy."

"But," adds the prof, "it's not because she is low-pitched. It's because she is breathy."

His research shows Miss Monroe's vocal cords part and come together in a rather regular cycle, producing a simple tone of low intensity.

Miss Monroe, Heinberg said, uses more lung power to speak in her "breathy" voice than do ordinary persons, because a greater amount of air is needed to hold the vocal folds open.

He further defined her voice: "It's a pure tone plus a sort of hiss."

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH:

What do you do when there is nothing left to live for—no tomorrow, no nothing? Ask God to help you? Pray? I have done both, am still doing them, but still I am suffering.

Two weeks ago the man whom I dearly loved took his life. He was an alcoholic, a weakling and, in his own words, "no good." He tried, I know, to overcome these faults. He loved me; he begged me to marry him; but I put him off until he could straighten himself out.

Now I wonder if it wouldn't have been better if I had married him? Perhaps then I could have done more for him.

Three days before his death, he gave me clues as to what he was going to do—clues which I didn't take seriously at the time. Now I know he had it all planned.

He left a note saying he would always love me—but giving no reason for his act. I am torturing myself for not realizing he was serious, and for not trying to stop him.

I miss him so, and think of him every waking moment. My family and friends say I should be glad he is out of my life; and that if we had married, he would have made my life miserable. They say

Thompsons Leave

Mrs. Robert Thompson, Jr., and two small sons, Larry R. and Robert Randall, left by plane Saturday morning from Vandavia for San Diego, Calif., to join Mr. Thompson who has been transferred there from the Crosley plant in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Thompson and the children have been visiting relatives and friends here for the past two weeks. Mabel Jane Thompson entertained with a birthday dinner Friday for her guests and Mrs. Thelma Ruth and granddaughter, Cheri Lynn.

Club Date Changed

Bloomington Wednesday Club has been postponed until Friday this week. They will meet with Mrs. Dale Wilson at 2 p. m.

he was too weak to face life; but all this is of little consolation to me now.

K. R.

DEAR K.R.: You ask why would the man have taken his life if he really loved you. Well, suicide is always a manifestation of soul sickness, isn't it? Or perhaps one might say: ego sickness.

Suicide marks the point at which a person, in a certain state of mind, feels at the ultimate end of his own resources, or his own cunning, in trying to find peace, joy, happiness, satisfaction, etc., on his terms, in his experience of living.

And because this person, thus dismayed, somehow assumes, with no real proof, that he is, or ought to be, captain of the show that he calls his life—and because he completely overlooks taking God into account—he just quits, in despair. Or in rage.

Suicide is a step taken, in a moment of hell-like inner isolation from humanity, during a mood of loneliness, defiance, resentment and hate, equating blind despair.

As to the relationship between your friend's despair and his love of you—it is possible that his sense of frustration, due to your wish that he get straightened out before proceeding to marriage, was a sort of last straw added to his cumulative grudge against life.

If so, your proper desire for some proof in action that he was morally qualified for marriage, was still a spiritually sound attitude. And it would be like blaming elements of health in yourself for his ill health, as if your sanity on that point made him irrational, to feel "responsible" for his self-destruction—supposing romantic frustration contributed to it.

Now about yourself: Valid sorrow for the tragic ending of a friend's life is one thing; but there is morbidity in your mournful preoccupation. You are a more or less soulless person too, quite aside from this heartbreak affliction. Thus your problem is how to get yourself on another wavelength, psychologically—so as (1) to attract happy associates, and (2) better withstand the inevitable shocks of life. You need psychiatric support and religious fellowship to help you make that transfer.

Paul Ford Is Slow Starter As Actor, but He's Gaining

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Paul Ford is a slow starter, but once he gets going—watch out.

After all, wasn't he 39 before he even turned to acting on a permanent basis? And wasn't he 39 before he made a dent on the national consciousness? In a word—yes.

You may not recall his name, but most TV viewers recognize the jutting face and pot-belly of Sgt. Bilko's exasperated colonel on the Phil Silvers show. That's Paul Ford.

"Oddly enough, I'm not a bit like the colonel in real life," explained Ford. "I'm rather quiet and soft-spoken, as a matter of fact."

So he is. He seems almost a bit taken aback by his sudden fame after many long years of effort.

"I guess I always wanted to be an actor," he remarked as he looked back on his life. "But I never really thought I could make a go of it. So I tried everything else."

His jobs varied from working in a gas station to reading proofs for the Philadelphia Bulletin. He herded a crew of magazine salesmen through the East and Middle West—"We were sort of con men, but honest."

"Finally I turned to acting, because I couldn't seem to make a living at anything else," he said.

His first job was in a puppet show operated by the WPA. Then he got involved in a little theater in New York. His wife argued that $3 a night was hardly enough to support their five kids, but Paul persisted.

His luck began to turn when

Benito Mussolini was named after Benito Juarez, a Mexican revolutionary.

he got into radio acting. Using the salesmanship he had learned on the road, he sold himself to producers and soon was doing 15 shows a week.

"I always could make a good living from acting—$12,000 to $15,000 a year," he said.

The change began when he was chosen to play the harrassed colonial in the Broadway company of "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Woes Plentiful For Inventor Selling Ideas

Corporations Anxious
But Cautious in OK
Of 'Outside' Gadgets

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Countless American men and women nurse a conviction they have an idea that if recognized and properly commercialized would prove to be a money-making invention.

Many a corporation knows that their present products run the risk of becoming outdated, despite all the dollars that are being poured into company research. Outside ideas could be the answer if they are to outstrip their competitors.

The problem is to get the inventor and the producer and financier together without confusions and abrasions.

Inventors have some strong fears about theft or double dealing by corporations.

Companies have had their fingers burned enough by law suits to be aware of the risks of dealing with outside ideas, especially if unsolicited.

Corporation executives contend that from 200 to 500 ideas submitted must be examined to find one that is worthwhile. They point out that a $25 preliminary patent search by the inventor saves everybody time and money.

George S. Hastings, American Machine & Foundry vice president in charge of its patent department, says many companies now insist upon a submit agreement. This states that the invention isn't being submitted in confidence and that the corporation doesn't agree in advance to compensate the inventor.

A payment agreement is something that many an outsider with ideas has asked because he fears that when the corporation knows his secret he's lost his bargaining power. Some courts have held without the submit agreement an outside submission implies a contract, even if the invention is old or readily available from other sources.

The inventor's greatest fears probably are that the corporation will use his idea without pay or that it will buy the idea but never bring the product out lest that upset the company's large vested interest in its present product because of the costs of tooling, servicing and advertising.

He gives some other pointers to inventors about what companies look for in a new product.

It should fit into the company's existing facilities for production, engineering and marketing.

At the outset its probable selling price must be substantially on excess of cost of manufacturing. The inventor should take into consideration the product's customer appeal and its commercial practicality should be proven.

The invention should have sufficient patent protection to prevent others from copying it later.

State Appeal Hearing Scheduled for Friday

COLUMBUS (AP)—Date for a hearing on an appeal against a ruling preventing the state from placing a constitutional amendment on the Nov. 5 ballot has been set for 10 a. m. Friday.

The appeal was filed against a ruling by Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds. The amendment would control sewer and water facilities outside cities.

Ohio Citizen Highway Committee To Meet

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Citizens Highway Development Committee, which aims to stimulate greater public support for the state's billion dollar road program, will meet here Tuesday.

A discussion of policies and financing of the organization will be held, Chairman Dr. Arthur S. Flemming said.

Fathers of Lucky Quintet in Millionaire Class

Five Film Starlets Have Real 'Sugar Daddies'

By ARMAND ARCHERD
Central Press Assn.
HOLLYWOOD — What is the movie world coming to?

Starlets are no longer in search of "daddies" to mink and to diamond them. Today's would-be Marilyn Monroes come already equipped with their own furs and fane, gems, with real daddies in the millionaire class.

Or, at least five of them in the new batch at 20th Century - Fox studio arrived with their own well-stacked bank accounts, as well as well-stacked you-know-what.

First, we have Miss (please note the "Miss") Di a Merrill a blue-eyed blonde who is the willowy and aristocratic daughter of banker-broker Edward Hutton and Mrs. Merriweather Post.

If that isn't enough, we could add she's a cousin of Barbara Hutton. The latter fact is one which Dina tries to keep out of print, however, pointing out that she changed her real name, Nedenia Hutton, to Dina Merrill to avoid trading on the Hutton name. A couple of gals named Betty and Ina Ra, did OK without being related to Barbara—but Dina wants to do it without the family moniker.

DINA IS MARRIED to Stanley Rumbough, Jr., president of the American Totalizer company, the outfit which regulates the pari-mutuel machines used at the race tracks. He's also topper of the Metal Container Corp. This gal isn't worried about her future, no matter what happens in films.

After being spotted on a video show she was brought to Hollywood to test for "Sayonara." She lost out, but her screen test was viewed by producer Henry Ehren and signed for "Desk Set."

Pamela Curran, who also makes her film debut in "Desk Set" — as a hip-swaying blonde who tries to lure Spencer Tracey, is another socialite.

At 17, she was named the only deb eligible for the "glamor debutante" title once held by Brenda Frazier. She is the daughter of Williams Curran and of Mrs. Frank Gould of THE Gould family. Pam is divorced from cotton broker Joseph A. Wade.

When she was 15, Miss C. earned as much as $800 a week as a model. However, her mom was furious at the idea of daughter doing this sort of thing and ended the career. But, at 18, Pam left home to live at the Barbizon Hotel for Women and continued dramatic studies.

She toured the country plugging Balenciaga clothes and perfumes and was spotted by casting director Billy Gordon — yes it really happens — and was tested and signed for "Desk Set."

FOX-HUNTING SET contributes Patricia Powell who makes her film debut in Leo McCarey's "An Affair to Remember," opposite Cary Grant.

She is a daughter of the Buckley Powells (first families of Virginia) and was educated at St. Anne's school and Sweetbriar. Miss Patricia makes her debut for the same film producer who discovered her when she attended the premiere of "Carousel."

It seems a photographer created a disturbance trying to persuade her to pose for a still. The man sitting in front of her turned around to stare. He was producer Jerry Wald who thought she would make a wonderful Lucy in his forthcoming film, "Andersoville." Wald left Columbia Studios before the film was made but didn't forget Patricia for An Affair to Remember.

She had never thought of a dramatic career, but didn't turn down the offer; left her stable of racing horses and stock quotations to study drama. Patricia is chauffeured to the studio because she's afraid to drive in L.A.—and what's more, she can afford to have a driver!

Sue Randall, another member of the Desk Set set, is the youngest member of the social quintet on the lot. She's the daughter of socialite real estate counselor and Mrs. Roland Rodrock Randall of Germantown and Philadelphia, Pa.

UNLIKE THE OTHERS, Sue has been in show business since she was a youngster. Katherine Hepburn saw her on a television show. Sue came to Hollywood with Miss H. via plane. Hepburn coached even tested with her. P. S.—she got the part!

Miss Randall says she's mad about Hollywood, will probably take her daddy's advice and buy some valuable property in L. A. while out here making movies!

There's a "ringer" in the beautiful bevy of well-endowed youngsters. She is gorgeous, emerald-eyed, chestnut-haired Alena Murray.

YES, ALENA has a well-dollared daddy, but Alena, alas, is not a newcomer to films. She appeared in three French films. It's not her fault; her daddy, distinguished industrial engineer William Murray, and her mom, Lurette, moved to France when she was a youngster.

After seeing her French films, a studio signed Alena, but shortly thereafter, she injured her ankle while ice skating, required two years hospitalization.

She returned to work via a Robb Montgomery TV show and was "rediscovered" by her present studio.

She makes her debut in "Three Faces of Eve".

Ask any one of these gals why they work, why they want to face a 5 a. m. alarm clock rather than sit home and clip coupons and they all answer: "Where else could you get paid for doing what you like to do?"

Use of Steel Exceeds Output

Auto Demand Seen
Hiking Production

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel production, while inching upward, still is exceeded by consumption and consumers are drawing substantially upon their inventories.

That was the word from Steel magazine which said in its issue out today that expected heavy demand from the automotive industry in the fourth quarter should shoot the production rate up at a faster pace.

Steel mill operations last week climbed 1.5 points to 82 per cent of rated capacity — the highest point since the end of June.

Only a small amount of steel is on order for early delivery for the 1958 model automobiles, but a major producer of cold-rolled carbon sheets expects automotive orders to push up the steel operating rate by five points, Steel said.

"Not only is the auto industry looked to for order increases, but so is the appliance industry," the publication added. "Makers believe they have seen the worst of their woes. The inventory pipeline is running dry and new models are stimulating sales efforts. Officials are backing up their confidence with significant orders for September steel."

The metalworking weekly said that because of an appliance demand pickup and the start or production of 1958 models, the Westinghouse Electric Corp. will recall 500 employees to its Mansfield, Ohio, plant by Sept. 9. Nearly 1,000 workers were laid off there early this year.

"The auto and appliance industries will stimulate production of many allied industries, such as stamping and castings, both of which have been running slower than a year ago," Steel said.

The magazine's price composite on steelmaking scrap declined 33 cents to $35.50 a gross ton last week, while the composite on base prices of finished steel was unchanged at $146.19 a net ton. It has been at that figure since the week ended July 17.

Ohio Motor Scooter Licenses Due Tuesday

COLUMBUS (AP)—A new law requiring operators of motor scooters or motor-driven bicycles in Ohio to have a state license goes into effect Tuesday.

Operators must pass an eye test and written examination to qualify for a 30-day permit, and later must take a regular driver's examination given by the State Highway Patrol. The temporary permits cost 50 cents and the license $1.

It was their 19th child and Mrs. Blackburn said, "I've run out of names."

The newest addition to the Blackburn family weighed seven pounds and eight ounces. The father, 48, operates an automobile repair business.

Of 'Outside' Gadgets

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Countless American men and women nurse a conviction they have an idea that if recognized and properly commercialized would prove to be a money-making invention.

Many a corporation knows that their present products run the risk of becoming outdated, despite all the dollars that are being poured into company research. Outside ideas could be the answer if they are to outstrip their competitors.

The problem is to get the inventor and the producer and financier together without confusions and abrasions.

Inventors have some strong fears about theft or double dealing by corporations. Companies have had their fingers burned enough by law suits to be aware of the risks of dealing with outside ideas, especially if unsolicited.

Corporation executives contend that from 200 to 500 ideas submitted must be examined to find one that is worthwhile. They point out that a $25 preliminary patent search by the inventor saves everybody time and money.

George S. Hastings, American Machine & Foundry vice president in charge of its patent department, says many companies now insist upon a submit agreement. This states that the invention isn't being submitted in confidence and that the corporation doesn't agree in advance to compensate the inventor.

A payment agreement is something that many an outsider with ideas has asked because he fears that when the corporation knows his secret he's lost his bargaining power. Some courts have held without the submit agreement an outside submission implies a contract, even if the invention is old or readily available from other sources.

The inventor's greatest fears probably are that the corporation will use his idea without pay or that it will buy the idea but never bring the product out lest that upset the company's large vested interest in its present product because of the costs of tooling, servicing and advertising.

He gives some other pointers to inventors about what companies look for in a new product.

It should fit into the company's existing facilities for production, engineering and marketing.

At the outset its probable selling price must be substantially on excess of cost of manufacturing.

The inventor should take into consideration the product's customer appeal and its commercial practicality should be proven.

The invention should have sufficient patent protection to prevent others from copying it later.

State Appeal Hearing Scheduled for Friday

COLUMBUS (AP)—Date for a hearing on an appeal against a ruling preventing the state from placing a constitutional amendment on the Nov. 5 ballot has been set for 10 a. m. Friday.

The appeal was filed against a ruling by Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds. The amendment would control sewer and water facilities outside cities.

Ohio Citizen Highway Committee To Meet

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Citizens Highway Development Committee, which aims to stimulate greater public support for the state's billion dollar road program, will meet here Tuesday.

A discussion of policies and financing of the organization will be held, Chairman Dr. Arthur S. Flemming said.

Five Film Starlets Have Real 'Sugar Daddies'

By ARMAND ARCHERD
Central Press Assn.
HOLLYWOOD — What is the movie world coming to?

Starlets are no longer in search of "daddies" to mink and to diamond them. Today's would-be Marilyn Monroes come already equipped with their own furs and fane, gems, with real daddies in the millionaire class.

Or, at least five of them in the new batch at 20th Century - Fox studio arrived with their own well-stacked bank accounts, as well as well-stacked you-know-what.

First, we have Miss (please note the "Miss") Di a Merrill a blue-eyed blonde who is the willowy and aristocratic daughter of banker-broker Edward Hutton and Mrs. Merriweather Post.

If that isn't enough, we could add she's a cousin of Barbara Hutton. The latter fact is one which Dina tries to keep out of print, however, pointing out that she changed her real name, Nedenia Hutton, to Dina Merrill to avoid trading on the Hutton name. A couple of gals named Betty and Ina Ra. did OK without being related to Barbara—but Dina wants to do it without the family moniker.

DINA IS MARRIED to Stanley Rumbough, Jr., president of the American Totalizer Corp., the outfit which regulates the pari-mutuel machines used at the race tracks. He's also topper of the Metal Container Corp. This gal isn't worried about her future, no matter what happens in films.

After being spotted on a video show she was brought to Hollywood to test for "Sayonara." She lost out, but her screen test was viewed by producer Henry Ephron and signed for "Desk Set."

Pamela Curran, who also makes her film debut in "Desk Set" — as a hip-swaying blonde — tries to lure Spencer Tracey, is another socialite.

At 17, she was named the only deb eligible for the "glam or debutante" title once held by Brenda Frazier. She is the daughter of Williams Curran and of Mrs. Frank Gould of THE Gould family. Pam is divorced from cotton broker Joseph A. Wade.

When she was 15, Miss C. earned as much as $800 a week as a model. However, her mom was furious at the idea of daughter doing this sort of thing and ended the career. But, at 18, Pam left home to live at the Barbizon Hotel for Women and continued dramatic studies.

She toured the country plugging Balenciaga clothes and perfumes and was spotted by casting director Billy Gordon—yes it really happens—and was tested and signed for "Desk Set."

FOX-HUNTING SET contributes Patricia Powell who makes her film debut in Leo McCarey's "An Affair to Remember," opposite Cary Grant.

She is a daughter of the Buckley Powells (first families of Virginia) and was educated at St. Anne's school and Sweetbriar. Miss Patricia makes her debut for the same film producer who discovered her when she attended the premiere of "Carousel."

sue her to pose for a still. The man sitting in front of her turned around to stare. He was producer Jerry Wald who thought she would make a wonderful Lucy in his forthcoming film, "Andersoville." Wald left Columbia Studios before the film was made but didn't forget Patricia for an Affair to Remember.

She had never thought of a dramatic career, but didn't turn down the offer; left her stable of racing horses and stock quotations to study drama. Patricia is chauffeured to the studio because she's afraid to drive in L.A.—and what's more, she can afford to have a driver!

Sue Randall, another member of the Desk Set set, is the youngest member of the social quintet on the lot. She's the daughter of socialite real estate counselor and Mrs. Roland Rodrock Randall of Germantown and Philadelphia, Pa.

UNLIKE THE OTHERS, Sue has been in show business since she was a youngster. Katherine Hepburn saw her on a television show. Sue came to Hollywood with Miss H. via plane. Hepburn coached even tested with her. P. S.—she got the part!

Miss Randall says she's mad about Hollywood, will probably take her daddy's advice and buy some valuable property in L. A. while out here making movies!

There's a "ringer" in the beautiful bevy of well-endowed youngsters. She is gorgeous, emerald-eyed, chestnut-haired Alena Murray.

YES, ALENA has a well-dollared daddy, but Alena, alas, is not a daddy.

newcomer to films. Sh appeared in three French films. It's not her fault; her daddy, distinguished industrial engineer William Murray, and her mom, Lurette, moved to France when she was a youngster.

After seeing her French films, a studio signed Alena, but shortly thereafter, she injured her ankle while ice skating, required two years hospitalization.

She returned to work via a Robert Montgomery TV show and was "rediscovered" by her present studio.

Auto Demand Seen
Hiking Production

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel production, while inching upward, still is exceeded by consumption and consumers are drawing substantially upon their inventories.

That was the word from Steel magazine which said in its issue out today that expected heavy demand from the automotive industry in the fourth quarter should shoot the production rate up at a faster pace.

Steel mill operations last week climbed 1.5 points to 82 per cent of rated capacity — the highest point since the end of June.

Only a small amount of steel is on order for early delivery for the 1958 model automobiles, but a major producer of cold-rolled carbon sheets expects automotive orders to push up the steel operating rate by five points, Steel said. "Not only is the auto industry looked to for order increases, but so is the appliance industry," the publication added. "Makers believe they have seen the worst of their woes. The inventory pipeline is running dry and new models are stimulating sales efforts. Officials are backing up their confidence with significant orders for September steel."

The metalworking weekly said that because of an appliance demand pickup and the start of production of 1958 models, the Westinghouse Electric Corp. will recall 500 employees to its Mansfield, Ohio, plant by Sept. 9. Nearly 1,000 workers were laid off there early this year.

"The auto and appliance industries will stimulate production of many allied industries, such as stamping and castings, both of which have been running slower than a year ago," Steel said.

The magazine's price composite on steelmaking scrap declined 33 cents to $53.50 a gross ton last week, while the composite on base prices of finished steel was unchanged at $146.19 a net ton. It has been at that figure since the week ended July 17.

Ohio Motor Scooter Licenses Due Tuesday

COLUMBUS (AP)—A new law requiring operators of motor scooters or motor-driven bicycles in Ohio to have a state license goes into effect Tuesday.

Operators must pass an eye test and written examination to qualify for a 30-day permit, and later must take a regular driver's examination given by the State Highway Patrol. The temporary permits cost 50 cents and the licenses $1.

After 19th Child, More Names Needed

DAYTON, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Juanita Blackburn, 44, of nearby California admits she and her husband might need some help in naming their new baby girl.

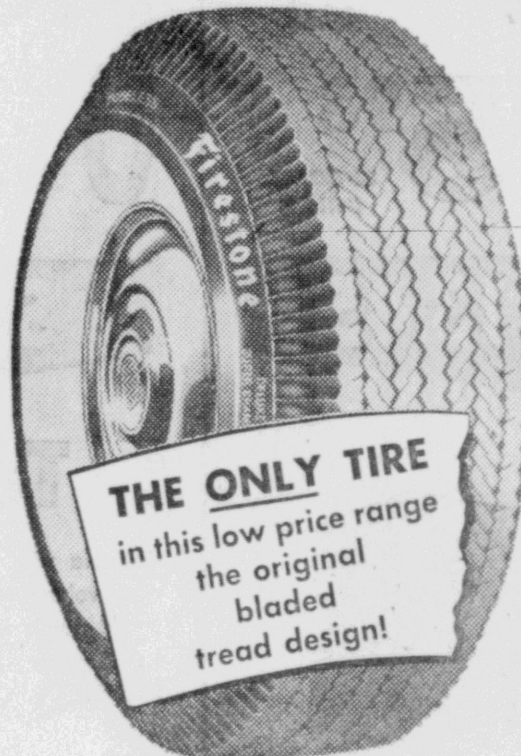

It was their 19th child and Mrs. Blackburn said, "I've run out of names."

The newest addition to the Blackburn family weighed seven pounds and eight ounces. The father, 48, operates an automobile repair business.

Chisox Refuse To Say Die in AL Flag Race

Windy City Outfit Narrows Yank Lead To Only 4 Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Those Chicago White Sox die so hard, who knows? They might just manage to stay alive.

You can smile, pal, but don't laugh. After sweeping a pair from Baltimore 6-2 and 3-0, while New York lost a single game at Detroit 7-2 Sunday, the White Sox are only four games behind the Yankees in the American League chase.

Another Yankee loss at Detroit today, while the Sox are idle, and a Chicago sweep in a three-game series with New York opening at Comiskey Park Tuesday night would bring the Sox within three percentage points of the top.

All of which could upset the pre-season dope, making it an all-time way race in the AL while Milwaukee runs away with it in the National. The Braves grabbed a 7½-game lead again by defeating Philadelphia 7-2 as Brooklyn knocked off second-place St. Louis 6-5.

The New York Giants, pressing for the first division, clobbered Cincinnati 10-1. Chicago's Cubs, blanked 3-0 on four hits by Vern Law, bounced back with 16 hits in the nightcap at Pittsburgh for an 8-2 decision.

In the other AL games, Kansas City defeated Boston 3-2 and Cleveland swept Washington 3-2 and 6-4.

Don't knock the White Sox's chances. The Yankees are only 5-5 at Detroit, and have lost four of six on this final Western trip. At Chicago, the champs will pitch young Johnny Kucks, Tom Sturdivant and an ailing Bobby Shantz (if his injured finger is okay).

Against the Yankees, the White Sox have Jim Wilson, Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan ready—with Bob (No-Hit) Keegan the No. 1 relief man.

It was Keegan who helped get the sweep over the Orioles, throwing a three-hitter in the opener as a follow-up to Tuesday's no-hit job at Washington. The 35-year-old right-hander, now 9-6, walked none and retired the first 10 before Bob Boyd's triple and an infield out scored one in the fourth. Al Pilleik homered in the fifth, but the Birds didn't get another hit until Billy Gardner singled in the seventh.

The Sox, scoring two first-inning runs without a hit and pocketing a pair of unearned runs in the second inning of the opener, were blanked on two hits by Bill Wright until the nightcap sixth. Then Sherm Lollar's two-run single and a wild pitch nailed it. Billy Fischer won his fifth.

Al Kaline had half Detroit's eight hits, including his 15th and 16th homers, both two-run shots. Bob Turley led it while Billy Hoelt, who won 20 last season, gained a 6-8 record with an eight-hitter.

Bob Hazle whacked a pair of three-run homers for the Braves and also singled in three trips for a .526 average in 57 at bats. Warren Spahn also homered while winning his sixth in a row for a 16-8 record. Robin Roberts lost his 18th.

Sal Maglie trudged in from the bullpen and saved it for the Dodgers, fanning Ken Boyer on three pitches with the bases loaded and two runs home in the ninth. Don Drysdale won his 13th. Gil Hodges drove in three runs with his 21st homer and a double off loser Sam Jones.

Don Mueller had four hits, two of them home runs, for the Giants. Ruben Gomez won his 14th with a six-hitter, losing a shutout in the ninth when Ed Bailey cracked a home run.

Ex-Pirate Dale Long had three of the Cubs' hits off Law, who won his 10th, and lined three more in the nightcap. Moe Drabowsky fanned nine while losing the opener.

Vic Power, Hector Lopez and Woody Held homered for Kansas City against Tom Brewer. Tom Gorman won with a six-hitter.

The Indians came from two runs back in both games, winning the opener on homers by Gene Woodling, Al Smith and Jim Hegan as Mike Garcia five-hit the Nats and struck out seven. Ray Narleski saved the nightcap for Cal McLish, retiring the side with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Milledgeville Tops WCH Nine, 7 to 2

Milledgeville defeated the Washington C. H. Satterfield and Ross team, 7-2, on the Jeffersonville diamond Sunday afternoon. It was a make-up game in the Southwest Ohio League.

Milledgeville delivered its hardest blow with three runs in the first inning. Those came as a result of two hits and two errors. Milledgeville kept up the hitting and scored two more runs in the second, one in the fourth and their last run in the eighth inning.

Zanesville Pair Signed by Cards

ZANESVILLE (P)—The St. Louis Cardinals have signed two Zanesville baseball players, 18-year-old Joe Corbin, a left-handed pitcher of Rosecrans High School, and Don Branson, 18-year-old Zanesville High School outfielder.

Branson signed with a $4,000 bonus and will report to Omaha of the American Assn. next season. He turned down a four-year Ohio State University athletic scholarship to sign with the Cards.

Corbin will report to the Class D Decatur League in the south next season. Both have been active in semi-pro baseball in the Central Ohio League.

Lion Football Squad Shrinks To 37 Players

17 Candidates Fall By Wayside during First Practice Week

The Floridians raced through three rivals to take the crown as pitchers Lou Vickery and Don Griffey issued but two earned runs and 12 hits in 21 innings.

Vickery pitched Pensacola to the title Sunday with a masterful two-hit, 9-0 victory over Stamford, Conn. The same lefthander beat N.w Orleans 6-1 Tuesday with a five-hitter.

Athletics Defeated In H-O-L Playoff

The Washington C. H. Athletics lost out in their effort to play in the Heart of Ohio League finals at Jets Stadium next Sunday when they bowed to Zanesville Sunday afternoon here by a score of 6 to 2.

Zanesville will play the winner of the Lancaster vs. Grove City game. Those two teams will play a best two out of three game series beginning at Jets Stadium next Sunday.

Brown Impressed By His Rookies

HIRAM (P)—Coach Paul Brown was pleased with the offensive power displayed by his Cleveland Browns in a 28-13 exhibition football victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday but it was the linemen who won his praise.

"The story of the game was the line play. We have real strength up front, both on the offense and defense," Brown commented.

Bill Quinlan and Paul Wiggins, rookie ends, were cited by Brown for their outstanding play as was a new center, Henry Jordan.

Charles Catalano, Cleveland, Division C, 83; Dayton "500" took the title in team competition with a 305 total.

Once-Famed Redleg Power Dormant Now

The Redlegs lost their 12th game in 13 tries Sunday, a 10-1 trouncing by the sixth-place New York Giants.

Only Ed Bailey's ninth-inning home run saved the Reds from a shutout. And it served to remind the team's nostalgic fans of the "muscleman" of 1956 who slugged their way to a tie for the most season home runs.

The team's recent slump has emphasized how the 1957 Redlegs, who led the league as late as July 4, have slipped.

Even Frankie Robinson, the team's best hitter this year with a .325 average, was fanned four straight times Sunday by Giant pitching.

The Giants touched five Redleg pitchers for 15 hits, punching out runs in groups of one and two, plus a four-run outburst in the sixth inning.

Robin Roberts Out As Philly Starter

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Robin Roberts, veteran mainstay of the Philadelphia Phillies pitching staff has been dropped as a starting hurler by Manager Mayo Smith.

After Sunday's 7-3 loss to the Milwaukee Braves, in which Robbie gave up six hits, including two homers in 1-3 innings, Smith said he had decided to replace him in the pitching rotation.

"Yes, I'm dropping him. Don Cardwell and Jack Meyer will take his place. What else can I do?" Smith asked.

Roberts has been a great favorite with the fans since he joined the club in 1948.

He posted a 15-15 record his first full season and for the next six years straight was among the 20 game winners. Last season he missed it by a single victory but lost 18 over the route.

Chisox Refuse To Say Die in AL Flag Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Those Chicago White Sox die so hard, who knows? They might just manage to stay alive.

You can smile, pal, but don't laugh. After sweeping a pair from Baltimore 6-2 and 3-0, while New York lost a single game at Detroit 7-2 Sunday, the White Sox are only four games behind the Yankees in the American League chase.

Another Yankee loss at Detroit today, while the Sox are idle, and a Chicago sweep in a three-game series with New York opening at Comiskey Park Tuesday night would bring the Sox within three percentage points of the top.

All of which could upset the pre-season dope, making it an all-the-way race in the AL while Milwaukee runs away with it in the National. The Braves grabbed a 7½-game lead again by defeating Philadelphia 7-2 as Brooklyn knocked off second-place St. Louis 6-5.

The New York Giants, pressing for the first division, clobbered Cincinnati 10-1. Chicago's Cubs, blanked 3-0 on four hits by Vern Law, bounced back with 16 hits in the nightcap at Pittsburgh for an 8-2 decision.

In the other AL games, Kansas City defeated Boston 3-2 and Cleveland swept Washington 3-2 and 6-4.

Don't knock the White Sox's chances. The Yankees are only 5-5 at Detroit, and have lost four of six on this final Western trip. At Chicago, the champs will pitch young Johnny Kucks, Tom Sturdivant and an ailing Bobby Shantz (if his injured finger is okay).

Against the Yankees, the White Sox have Jim Wilson, Billy Pierce and Dick Donovan ready—with Bob (No-Hit) Keegan the No. 1 relief man.

It was Keegan who helped get the sweep over the Orioles, throwing a three-hitter in the opener as a follow-up to Tuesday's no-hit job at Washington. The 35-year-old right-hander, now 9-6, walked none and retired the first 10 before Bob Boyd's triple and an infield out scored one in the fourth. Al Pilschick homered in the fifth, but the Birds didn't get another hit until Billy Gardner singled in the seventh.

The Sox, scoring two first-inning runs without a hit and pocketing a pair of unearned runs in the second inning of the opener, were blanked on two hits by Bill Wright until the nightcap sixth. Then Sherm Lollar's two-run single and a wild pitch nailed it. Billy Fischer won his fifth.

Al Kaline had half Detroit's eight hits, including his 15th and 16th homers, both two-run shots. Bob Turley lost it while Billy Hoelt, who won 20 last season, gained a 6-8 record with an eight-hitter.

Yankee Mickey Mantle was 2-for-3, pushing within two points of Boston's Ted Williams, who was hitless as his bat average skidded to .378.

Bob Hazle whacked a pair of three-run homers for the Braves and also singled in three trips for a .526 average in 57 at bats. Warren Spahn also homered while winning his sixth in a row for a 16-8 record. Robin Roberts lost his 18th.

Sal Maglie trudged in from the bullpen and saved it for the Dodgers, fanning Ken Boyer on three pitches with the bases loaded and two runs home in the ninth. Don Drysdale won his 13th. Ed Hodges drove in three runs with his 21st homer and a double off loser Sam Jones.

Don Mueller had four hits, two of them home runs, for the Giants. Ruben Gomez won his 14th with a six-hitter, losing a shutout in the ninth when Ed Bailey cracked a home run.

Ex-Pirate Dale Long had three of the Cubs' hits off Law, who won his 10th, and lined three more in the nightcap. Moe Drabowsky fanned nine while losing the opener.

Vic Power, Hector Lopez and Woody Held homered for Kansas City against Tom Brewer. Tom Gorman won with a six-hitter.

The Indians came from two runs back in both games, winning the opener on homers by Gene Woodling, Al Smith and Jim Hegan as Mike Garcia five-hit the Nats and struck out seven. Ray Narleski saved the nightcap for Cal McLish, retiring the side with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Milledgeville Tops WCH Nine, 7 to 2

Milledgeville defeated the Washington C. H. Satterfield and Ross team, 7-2, on the Jeffersonville diamond Sunday afternoon. It was a make-up game in the Southwest Ohio League.

Milledgeville delivered its hardest blow with three runs in the first inning. Those came as a result of two hits and two errors. Milledgeville kept up the hitting and scored two more runs in the second, one in the fourth and their last run in the eighth inning.

The Washington C. H. team broke through for scores in both the sixth and eighth innings.

Zanesville Pair Signed by Cards

ZANESVILLE (P)—The St. Louis Cardinals have signed two Zanesville baseball players, 18-year-old Joe Corbin, a left-handed pitcher of Rosecrans High School, and Don Branson, 18-year-old Zanesville High School outfielder.

Branson signed with a $4,000 bonus and will report to Omaha of the American Assn. next season. He turned down a four-year Ohio State University athletic scholarship to sign with the Cards.

Corbin will report to the Class D Decatur League in the south next season. Both have been active in semi-pro baseball in the Central Ohio League.

Charles Catalano, Cleveland, Division C, 83. Dayton "500" took the title in team competition with a 305 total.

Floridians Cop Babe Ruth Crown
ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Pensacola, Fla., with a stingy two-man pitching staff when it came to doling out hits and runs reigns Monday as world champion of Babe Ruth League baseball.

The Floridians raced through three rivals to take the crown as pitchers Lou Vickery and Don Griffey issued but two earned runs and 12 hits in 21 innings.

Vickery pitched Pensacola to the title Sunday with a masterful two-hit, 9-0 victory over Stamford, Conn. The same lefthander beat New Orleans 6-1 Tuesday with a five-hitter.

Athletics Defeated In H-O-L Playoff

The Washington C. H. Athletics lost out in their effort to play in the Heart of Ohio League finals at Jets Stadium next Sunday when they bowed to Zanesville Sunday afternoon here by a score of 6 to 2.

The Zanesville nine sewed up their victory in their half of the fifth inning when they scored four runs. Two hits, an interference ruling and two errors sank the Athletics' hopes and put Zanesville ahead 5 to 1. The Athletics scored their runs in the third and seventh innings.

Zanesville will play the winner of the Lancaster vs. Grove City game. Those two teams will play a best two out of three game series beginning at Jets Stadium next Sunday.

Brown Impressed By His Rookies

HIRAM (P)—Coach Paul Brown was pleased with the offensive power displayed by his Cleveland Browns in a 28-13 exhibition football victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers Saturday but it was the linemen who won his praise.

"The story of the game was the line play. We have real strength up front, both on the offense and defense," Brown commented.

Bill Quinlan and Paul Wiggin, rookie ends, were cited by Brown for their outstanding play as was a new center, Henry Jordan.

Charles Catalano, Cleveland, Division C, 83. Dayton "500" took the title in team competition with a 305 total.

Once-Famed Redleg Power Dormant Now

The Redlegs lost their 12th game in 13 tries Sunday, a 10-1 trouncing by the sixth-place New York Giants.

Only Ed Bailey's ninth-inning home run saved the Reds from a shutout. And it served to remind the team's nostalgic fans of the "muscleman" of 1956 who slugged their way to a tie for the most season home runs.

The team's recent slump has emphasized how the 1957 Redlegs, who led the league as late as July 4, have slipped.

Even Frankie Robinson, the team's best hitter this year with a .325 average, was fanned four straight times Sunday by Giant pitching.

The Giants touched five Redleg pitchers for 15 hits, punching out runs in groups of one and two, plus a four-run outburst in the sixth inning.

Don Mueller led the New York assault with five hits. He joined

Robin Roberts Out As Philly Starter

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Robin Roberts, veteran mainstay of the Philadelphia Phillies pitching staff has been dropped as a starting hurler by Manager Mayo Smith.

After Sunday's 7-3 loss to the Milwaukee Braves, in which Robie gave up six hits, including two homers in the 1-3 innings, Smith said he had decided to replace him in the pitching rotation.

"Yes, I'm dropping him. Don Cardwell and Jack Meyer will take his place. What else can I do?" Smith asked.

Roberts has been a great favorite with the fans since he joined the club in 1948.

He posted a 15-15 record his first full season and for the next six years straight was among the 20 game winners. Last season he missed it by a single victory but lost 18 over the route.

Danny O'Connell belting consecutive homers that highlighted the big sixth inning.

Hoot Song Looms as Choice In Hambletonian Tuesday

DUQUIN, Ill. (P) — Hoot Song looms as the popular choice for Tuesday's belated Hambletonian, the Kentucky Derby of harness racing.

The big trotting stake for 3-year olds, held for the first time on the exceptionally fast baked clay mile oval at the DuQuoin State Fairgrounds has drawn a field of 21.

The track, given good weather, is conducive to a record, but some observers feel the field doesn't have enough class even with perfect conditions.

For the first time since 1940
there will be no pari-mutuel wagering. It is unlawful at state fairgrounds in Illinois. But the railroads are active and there are unofficial odds floating around.

Hoot Song, sired by Hoot Mon, whose two-minute heat in 1947 at the Hambletonian's former Goshen, N. Y., home stands as the record, is rated an even choice.
So are Hickory Smoke and Buckeye Demon.

Based on performances this year, Hoot Song, a black filly owned by Two Gait Farm of Carmel, Ind., and driven by Ralph Baldwin, could better two minutes.

She trotted 2:01 3-5 at Sedalia,
Mo., last week for the best time of the year for a Hambo eligible.

Buckeye Demon, owned by Bat-tenkill Stable of East Dorset, Vt., and piloted by Harrison Hoyt — the only amateur ever to win the race — has the second best time of eligible colts, 2:01 4-5.

Hickory Smoke, the winter book favorite, is owned by L. B. Sheppard and A. C. Mudge of Hanover, Pa., and will have John Simpson at the reins. Smoke's best mile of the season is 2:02 3-5.
Simpson, 37, and Baldwin, 41, never have won the Hambletonian although each is a veteran of seven or eight years in it.

Because rules of racing prohibit the DuQuoin State Fair from starting more than 20 horses in any one race, a division elimination setup will be used for the first time.

The first division will have a field of 11 and the second 10.
There will be two heats of a mile in each. A showdown mile of the heat winners (there could be two, three or four) will follow to determine the champion.

The first heat of division No. 1 will start at 2:45 p.m. EST and the first heat of the second division goes off at 3 p.m. The second heats are paced an hour apart with the decisive fifth heat coming at 3:50 p.m.

The gross purse is $111,126.25, second only to the $117,117.98 with a record 23 entries in 1953. That race was permitted to be trotted in tiers with all 23 in the field under New York state harness racing regulations.

The maximum winner's share this time will be $47,917.62 but in order to attain it a horse must win each heat in his division and the fifth heat. First money in any heat is $13,068.44 with a winner-take-all jackpot of $21,780.74 for the showdown mile.

Glasses Aid Bob Avila in His Comeback

CLEVELAND (P)—Bobby Avila, aided by a pair of glasses, is making a comeback.

The Cleveland Indians' second baseman won the American League batting championship in 1954 when he hit .341. After that, his average started to slip and last season he batted only .224.

Manager Kerby Farrell benched him early this season because of his poor hitting. Unable to regain his batting form, Avila was also having trouble in the field.

He had consulted eye specialists before the season opened and finally decided to wear glasses when he took his turn at the plate. The results were amazing.

After donning the specs, his average has steadily climbed. His
.277 is currently best of the Tribe behind Gene Woodling and Vic Wertz.

Avila hit a single and run-producing double and started three doubles in the field Sunday as the Indians swept both ends of a doubleheader from the Washington Senators.

Gene Woodling, Jim Hegan and Al Smith hit home runs in the first game and Mike Garcia pitched a five-hitter as the Indians won 3-2.

A triple by Joe Altobelli and doubles by Avila, Smith and Hegan helped Cal McLish to his seventh victory in the nightcap as the Indians won 6-4.

NEW YORK (P)—Singer Harry Belafonte was reported in good condition today at New York Hospital after an operation for a renal detachment of the right eye.

CINCINNATI (P)—Dean Hoke S. Greene of the University of Cincinnati believes solar energy will be more important than atomic energy as a substitute for natural power sources.

He said that the last 50 years of the century may be known as the "age of substitutes or synthetics." He added:

"In the textile field, for example, synthetic fibers such as nylon, dieron, orlon have almost completely replaced natural fibers for many purposes."

COLUMBUS (P)—Ohio State University will award degrees to 775 seniors and graduate students at its summer commencement next Friday in St. John Arena.

Members of the class come from 77 Ohio counties, 34 other states, Puerto Rico and 20 foreign countries. Commencement speaker will be Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Air Lines.

Men's Argument Ended by Death

ST. CLAIRSVILLE (P)—Authorities in nearby Barnesville said Robert Adkins, 48, apparently shot and fatally wounded Paul Anderson, 22, and then killed himself Sunday.

Marshal Raymond West said the shootings took place in Adkins' home. After Anderson was shot, he apparently staggered from the house to a neighbor's home, where he died while police were being called.

Both were shot in the head with bullets from a .22 caliber revolver, West said. He said the men "had been having trouble" and were reportedly under peace bonds but did not elaborate.

Did you ever see nicer weather? Of course we need a rain and I feel sure we'll get it. These cool nights are wonderful for sleeping. Even wife's snoring doesn't keep me awake.

Surely enjoyed that good barbecued beef at the Farm & City Goodwill Roundup. Ralph Nisley sure knows his stuff when it comes to barbecuing and when you think about him for a minute I can't think of a man in our county who is more civic minded and does a lot of work in many organizations for the betterment of our community. Many others worked hard to have a good meeting and we had it. Dutch Denton, Walt Driesbach, Roscoe Whiteside all worked together. Just shows what a little teamwork can accomplish.

The Fair board and commissioners came down to Brandenburg's Corral, don't let the name fool you. It's just an old house with a porch around it for a steak dinner Saturday evening. The steaks were charcoal grilled. Of course they were hereford. After the meeting the past Fair was discussed and many suggestions were made to improve our next year's Fair.

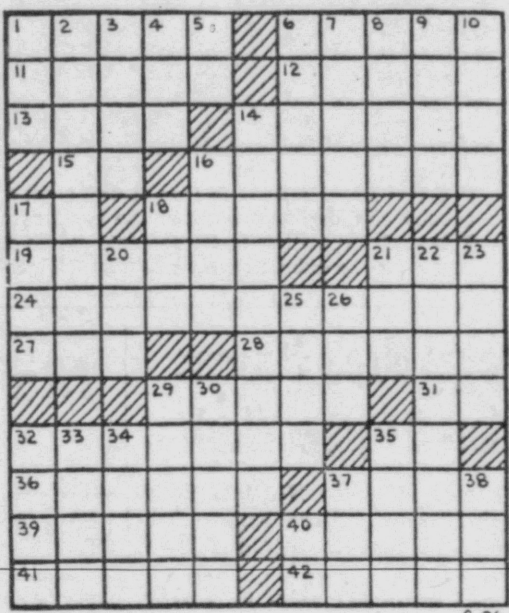

Wayne & Doris spent most of last week in Chicago on vacation.

Grandpa & Grandma kept Peggy the fifteen-month-old daughter. Grandma & Georgia changed and fed her and I entertained her. If you want to lose weight without dieting just keep a grandchild or two around. But we sure like them.

Have you been watching our ads and listening to our radio specials? Just read and listen and then jump in your car and head for Brandenburg's for a new Chevrolet or Buick.

Men's Argument Ended by Death

ST. CLAIRSVILLE (AP)—Authori- ties in nearby Barnesville said Robert Adkins, 48, apparently shot and fatally wounded Paul Anderson, 22, and then killed himself Sunday.

Marshal Raymond West said the shooting took place in Adkins' home. After Anderson was shot, he apparently staggered from the house to a neighbor's home, where he died while police were being called.

Both were shot in the head with bullets from a .22 caliber revolver, West said. He said the men "had been having trouble" and were re- portedly under peace bonds but did not elaborate.

Indiana Women Injured in Crash

Two Indiana women were hospitalized Sunday after a two-car accident that demolished both vehicles on Route 35 at Palmer Rd. about 11:20 p. m.

A Milledgeville man, driving a truck that was not damaged, was fined for failure to yield the right of way after the mishap.

Sheriff Orland Hays identified the women as:

Mrs. Floyd Campbell, 41, of Kokomo, Ind., admitted to Memorial Hospital for treatment of head and ankle injuries;

Mrs. Claude Ireson, 49, Russiaville, Ind., possible broken ribs and fractured skull.

Both are in good condition. Mrs. Campbell's son, Allen, aged 5, was treated in the emergency room at the hospital after the accident for a cut arm.

ALL THREE were passengers in an auto driven by Mrs. Campbell's husband, Floyd, 42, which collided head-on with an auto driven by Glen Leadingham, 18, of 511 S. Main St., Washington C. H.

Campbell told sheriff's deputies he had to pull into the wrong lane after a truck driven by Willis DeWitt, 46, of Milledgeville, pulled out of a restaurant at the intersection and blocked his lane.

DeWitt was fined $25 and costs in Municipal Court Monday after he pleaded guilty.

THREE SMALL children received slight injuries in another weekend accident on the CCC Highway at Fayette-Madison County line about 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

State Highway Patrolmen said the injured were Margaret and Deborah Ruth Parkinson, both 4, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parkinson of Cincinnati; and Karen Hughes, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes of Cincinnati.

All were treated by a physician for cuts and bruises, after an accident in which Robert Parkinson's auto piled into the rear of a line of halted cars.

The autos damaged, all of which were awaiting passage through CCC highway construction, were driven by John Hughes, Harry Ray Tadych, 55, of Berea, and George R. Cranston, 27, of south Fort Mitchell, Ky.

PARKINSON was charged with failure to stop within an assured clear distance, and scheduled for court appearance in Mt. Sterling. His car, Hughes' and Tadych's were "seriously" damaged. Damage to Cranston's was slight.

DEPUTY SHERIFF Donald Thompson said he will file reckless operation charges against a Chillicothe trucker whose tractor-trailer rig rolled over on Route 277, four miles south of Mt. Sterling at 3:30 p. m. Saturday.

Thompson said the trucker, identified as Russell Jarrett of Chillicothe, telephoned the sheriff's office about the accident and said he was going home because he was

Reuther To Press Inflation Fight

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther says he will press his inflation-fighting plan to cut 1958 car prices at least $100 despite the fact that the auto industry's Big Three have rejected it.

Reuther says he plans to issue his own analysis early this week of the reasons given by Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. for turning down his proposal to cut car prices in return for a UAW promise to modify contract demands in mid-1958. Ford joined GM and Chrysler over the weekend in rejecting Reuther's bid for a joint effort to curb inflation.

Court Action Paves Way For 70-Lot Development

Action in Common Pleas Court last week by Mary and Henry Brownell, Jr. paved the way for replating a 29-acre area for residential development in Eastern Washington C. H. The area, now owned by the Brownells is a part of the Daniel McLean subdivision which was platted in 1872. It is located south of existing homes on Washington Ave. and extending to the railroad track and west of Elm St. to the rear of homes on the east side of Ely St.

The action requested vacates certain streets and alleyways which were platted but never developed and retains an extension of Church St. Judge John P. Case heard the Brownell petition and granted the request.

Explaining his plans for the area Brownell said that he hoped to replat the area into approximately 70 residential lots.

Streets and sewer lines will be laid by Brownell, after which the lots will be offered individuals and building contractors.

He also said that he personally will probably build a few homes in the area, although primarily his role would be as the developer of the 20-acre site.

Court Dismisses Charge of Rape

A rape charge filed against James Beatty, Jr., 29, of 612 Rawlins St., was dismissed after a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court Monday, but a warrant charging Beatty with assault and battery was filed a few minutes later.

The warrant was filed by Helen Baker Vega, 30, of Jeffersonville, who brought the original charge. Hearing was set for Sept. 3.

Beatty was represented by an attorney at the preliminary hearing Monday. Prosecutor Rollo Marchant presented the state's case.

Municipal Court Judge Max G. Dice fined Gertrude Butler, 37, of 709 S. Main St., $50 and costs on an assault and battery charge at the same court session. The fine was suspended on condition the defendant stay away from the prosecuting witness, Anna Lee Fackler, of 707 S. Main St.

The defendant pleaded innocent.

Red Farmers Urged To Speed Up Harvest

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda has called on farmers in Siberia to speed up the grain harvest.

The Communist party newspaper said Sunday only 8 to 16 per cent of the crops were in by Aug. 20 in some areas. It blamed late ripening of the crops and poor use of machinery. Grain harvests Aug. 20 were 12,355,000 acres ahead of last year outside of Siberia, the paper reported.

State Highways To Be Resurfaced

Ohio Department of Highways announces that more than 2,500 miles of Ohio highways will receive new pavement this year — an increase nearly doubling the amount originally scheduled.

At least three major jobs of resurfacing are scheduled for this fall in Fayette County and one will begin in the spring.

Continuing the resurfacing that has been done from the city limits to Sugar Creek on Route 70, work will begin at Sugar Creek within a few weeks and continue to the county line. State Route 753 will be resurfaced all the way from Route 35 to Route 70, a distance of about 10 miles. Approximately 6 1/2 miles of Route 729 will be resurfaced extending from Jeffersonville to the county line.

Work scheduled to begin in the spring is a 5-mile stretch of Route 35 west of the city limits.

Dr. Davis Named Deputy Coroner

Dr. Hugh W. Payton appeared before county commissioners at their Monday morning session in the Court House, to advise that he had appointed a regular deputy coroner, to respond to any calls in the event he was absent from the county.

Dr. Payton, who accepted the appointment by the commissioners as coroner following the death of Dr. N. M. Reiff, said that he had named his associate in practice, Dr. E. R. Davis, for this new post. The deputy does not receive a salary, but is paid a small stipulated fee on any calls made.

Both physicians have their joint offices in Jeffersonville.

Aside from approval of bills and a discussion of various details of the county budget with members of the budget commission, there was no other business before the commissioners.

Mrs. Joseph Washburn of Flakes Ford Rd., near Rock Bridge, reported Monday morning that she saw an unusual flashing bright object in the sky about 9:30 p. m. Sunday.

3 Hocking Valley Miners Lauded Sunday for Heroism

NELSONVILLE (AP)—Three Hocking Valley coal miners who last year risked their lives in a mine disaster were lauded for their heroism here Sunday by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Gov. O'Neill shared the spotlight with a United Mine Workers of America official and a U. S. Bureau of Mines representative as he presented medals to Eldridge Hanning of Oak Grove, Tom Riley of Nelsonville and William Stephenson of Glouster.

The ceremony at the city ball park marked the annual opening of Nelsonville's annual Parade of the Hills, a week-long celebration.

Gov. O'Neill praised the miners both as individuals and in behalf of the state as he spoke of their deeds in a disaster which took the lives of two miners Oct. 12, at the Wharton Auger Coal Co., south-east of here.

Each man was given a Joseph A. Holmes Assn. medal by Gov. O'Neill, as well as a certificate of heroism by George Waters of South Zanesville, UMW representative.

Waters recalled that Lawrence Newsom, 32, Murray City, had lost his life in a vain attempt to rescue Paul Chorniak, 39, Buchtel, who had been overcome by "black damp" gas in an auger hole at the mine.

The UMW official then related how Hanning had nearly died in his courageous effort to reach Newsom. He told how Riley crawled into the auger hole to reach Hanning and tied a rope around the unconscious man before he, too, was overcome. Stephenson, who was behind Riley, also collapsed from the gas as he labored to pull the men from the narrow hole.

The "black damp" had seeped into the auger hole from an abandoned mine, and Chorniak had been overcome when he climbed into the opening to determine what had caused the auger bit to stop operation.

T. C. Higgins, St. Clairsville, district supervisor for the U. S. Bureau of Mines, explained the medals and certificates were from the Joseph A. Holmes Assn., an organization named for the first director of the bureau.

He said the award is made only when a man risks his life to rescue a fellow worker.

Approximately 2,500 spectators witnessed the ceremony.

COMPENSATION DENIED

In an action brought by Ora Bellar, 1139 Paint St., against Montgomery Ward and Co., and Chalmers P. Wylie, administrator of Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, Common Pleas Court Judge John P. Case has found in favor of the defendants and dismissed the case.

Bellar had asked for workmen's compensation claiming that on Oct. 27, 1955, while in the employ of the Montgomery Ward Co., he was injured when heavy corn cribs fell, striking his head and shoulder. Bellar claimed he suffered a back injury and concussion of the brain, resulting in permanent injury.

Indiana Women Injured in Crash

Two Indiana women were hospitalized Sunday after a two-car accident that demolished both vehicles on Route 35 at Palmer Rd. about 11:20 p. m.

A Milledgeville man, driving a truck that was not damaged, was fined for failure to yield the right of way after the mishap.

Sheriff Orland Hays identified the women as:

Mrs. Floyd Campbell, 41, of Kokomo, Ind., admitted to Memorial Hospital for treatment of head and ankle injuries;

Mrs. Claude Ireson, 49, Russiaville, Ind., possible broken ribs and fractured skull.

Both are in good condition.

Mrs. Campbell's son, Allen, aged 5, was treated in the emergency room at the hospital after the accident for a cut arm.

ALL THREE were passengers in an auto driven by Mrs. Campbell's husband, Floyd, 42, which collided head-on with an auto driven by Glen Leadingham, 18, of 511 S. Main St., Washington C. H.

Campbell told sheriff's deputies he had to pull into the wrong lane after a truck driven by Willis DeWitt, 40, of Milledgeville, pulled out of a restaurant at the intersection and blocked his lane.

DeWitt was fined $25 and costs in Municipal Court Monday after he pleaded guilty.

THREE SMALL children received slight injuries in another weekend accident on the CCC Highway at Fayette-Madison County line about 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

State Highway Patrolmen said the injured were Margaret and Deborah Ruth Parkinson, both 4, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parkinson of Cincinnati; and Karen Hughes, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes of Cincinnati.

All were treated by a physician for cuts and bruises, after an accident in which Robert Parkinson's auto piled into the rear of a line of halted cars.

The autos damaged, all of which were awaiting passage through CCC highway construction, were driven by John Hughes, Harry Ray Tadych, 55, of Berea, and George R. Cranston, 27, of south Fort Mitchell, Ky.

PARKINSON was charged with failure to stop within an assured clear distance, and scheduled for court appearance in Mt. Sterling. His car, Hughes' and Tadych's were "seriously" damaged. Damage to Cranston's was slight.

DEPUTY SHERIFF Donald Thompson said he will file reckless operation charges against a Chillicothe trucker whose tractor-trailer rig rolled over on Route 277, four miles south of Mt. Sterling at 3:30 p. m. Saturday.

Thompson said the trucker, identified as Russell Jarrett of Chillicothe, telephoned the sheriff's office about the accident and said he was going home because he was

Court Action Paves Way For 70-Lot Development

Action in Common Pleas Court last week by Mary and Henry Brownell, Jr. paved the way for replating a 20-acre area for residential development in Eastern Washington C. H. The area, now owned by the Brownells is a part of the Daniel McLean subdivision which was platted in 1872. It is located south of existing homes on Washington Ave. and extending to the railroad track and west of Elm St. to the rear of homes on the east side of Ely St.

The action requested vacates certain streets and alleyways which were platted but never developed and retains an extension of Church St. Judge John P. Case heard the Brownell petition and granted the request.

Explaining his plans for the area Brownell said that he hoped to replat the area into approximately 70 residential lots.

Streets and sewer lines will be laid by Brownell, after which the lots will be offered individuals and building contractors.

He also said that he personally will probably build a few homes in the area, although primarily his role would be as the developer of the 20-acre site.

State Highways To Be Resurfaced

Ohio Department of Highways announces that more than 2,500 miles of Ohio highways will receive new pavement this year — an increase nearly doubling the amount originally scheduled.

At least three major jobs of resurfacing are scheduled for this fall in Fayette County and one will begin in the spring.

Continuing the resurfacing that has been done from the city limits to Sugar Creek on Route 70, work will begin at Sugar Creek within a few weeks and continue to the county line. State Route 753 will be resurfaced all the way from Route 35 to Route 70, a distance of about 10 miles. Approximately 6½ miles of Route 729 will be resurfaced extending from Jeffersonville to the county line.

Work scheduled to begin in the spring is a 5-mile stretch of Route 35 west of the city limits.

Court Dismisses Charge of Rape

A rape charge filed against James Beatty, Jr., 29, of 612 Rawlings St., was dismissed after a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court Monday, but a warrant charging Beatty with assault and battery was filed a few minutes later.

The warrant was filed by Helen Baker Vega, 30, of Jeffersonville, who brought the original charge. Hearing was set for Sept. 3.

Both charges resulted from the same incident, which allegedly occurred at her home Aug. 16.

Beatty was represented by an attorney at the preliminary hearing Monday. Prosecutor Rollo Marchant presented the state's case.

Municipal Court Judge Max G. Dice fined Gertrude Butler, 37, of 709 S. Main St., $50 and costs on an assault and battery charge at the same court session. The fine was suspended on condition the defendant stay away from the prosecuting witness, Anna Lee Fackler, of 707 S. Main St.

The defendant pleaded innocent.

MOSCOW (U)—Pravda has called on farmers in Siberia to speed up the grain harvest.

The Communist party newspaper said Sunday only 8 to 16 per cent of the crops were in by Aug. 20 in some areas. It blamed late ripening of the crops and poor use of machinery. Grain harvests Aug. 20 were 12,355,000 acres ahead of last year outside of Siberia, the paper reported.

Mrs. Joseph Washburn of Flakes Ford Rd., near Rock Bridge, reported Monday morning that she saw an unusual flashing bright object in the sky about 9:30 p. m. Sunday.

"One moment there was a tremendous amount of light," she said, "and the next moment complete darkness. Almost as though you would turn off a headlight."

"The object looked like a full moon, and was about that size," Mrs. Washburn said. "I saw it through our south window so it was in the southeast."

Kewanee Oil Rig Dismantled

Following completion of the electrical logging of the second test well of Kewanee Oil Co. on the Miami Trace road Saturday, the drilling crew lowered the big steel derrick at 3 p. m. Sunday, preparatory to moving it to Illinois to drill in that area.

3 Hocking Valley Miners Lauded Sunday for Heroism

NELSONVILLE (U)—Three Hocking Valley coal miners who last year risked their lives in a mine disaster were lauded for their heroism here Sunday by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Gov. O'Neill shared the spotlight with a United Mine Workers of America official and a U. S. Bureau of Mines representative as he presented medals to Eldridge Hanning of Oak Grove, Tom Riley of Nelsonville and William Stephenson of Glouster.

The ceremony at the city ball park marked the official opening of Nelsonville's annual Parade of the Hills, a week-long celebration.

Gov. O'Neill praised the miners both as individuals and in behalf of the state as he spoke of their deeds in a disaster which took the lives of two miners Oct. 12, at the Wharton Auger Coal Co., southeast of here.

Each man was given a Joseph A. Holmes Assn. medal by Gov. O'Neill, as well as a certificate of heroism by George Waters of South Zanesville, UMW representative.

Waters recalled that Lawrence Newsum, 32, Murray City, had lost his life in a vain attempt to rescue Paul Chorniak, 39, Buchtel, who had been overcome by "black damp" gas in an auger hole at the mine.

The UMW official then related how Hanning had nearly died in his courageous effort to reach Newsum. He told how Riley crawled into the auger hole to reach Hanning and tied a rope around the unconscious man before he, too, was overcome. Stephenson, who was behind Riley, also collapsed from the gas as he labored to pull the men from the narrow hole.

The "black damp" had seeped into the auger hole from an abandoned mine, and Chorniak had been overcome when he climbed into the opening to determine what had caused the auger bit to stop operation.

T. C. Higgins, St. Clairsville, district supervisor for the U. S. Bureau of Mines, explained the medals and certificates were from the Joseph A. Holmes Assn., an organization named for the first director of the bureau.

He said the award is made only when a man risks his life to rescue a fellow worker.

Approximately 2,500 spectators witnessed the ceremony.
